A Lemon and A Rose

A Rose to Mr. Boeri, just on general principals

Roses to the secretaries, for giving us the experience of Red Tape so we can succeed when we get out in the business world

An undeveloped Lemon to Mr. Hall, for always being able to see the negative side

Appreciative Roses to our Student Council and Class officers for honestly trying so hard (Lord knows what they tried for)

A Rose to our dedicated football team, for giving us a season no graduating class could ever forget

Candid Lemons to snappy photographers (They should all be shot)

One grammatical Rose to Marie Sciortino, for finally learning to speak English good

Timeless Lemons to our individualistic school clocks (At least stopped clocks are correct twice a day)

A non-vulgar Rose of brotherly love to Mr. Griffin, for not getting P.O.'d too often

A Kampish Lemon to Adolf Hitler, for tying his shoeties with little knotsies

Patriotic Roses to the girl who saluted the flag while smoking pot (With liberty and justice for all)

A sentimental Rose to Sandal Man, for his 19 H 47 hat

Honorable Lemons to Spiro Agnew, who wouldn't resign if indicted and wouldn't serve if convicted

Spirited Roses to Sue Altman, Nancy Carroll, Janet Gerard, Linda Flanniman, Mary Imbriale, Karen Molfetta, Diane Parini, Chris Wakun, and Sue Yanusz, for one final "Beat Em!!!"

A Rose to Mr. O'Donnell, for advocating a free press

Frozen Lemons to fire drills in sub-human weather

A Rose to Lewis Lasher, for keeping those moving morning announcements brief

Loads o' Lemons to the garbage pail obstacle courses in the upstairs halls, due to leaky roofs

Sweaty Roses to all our athletes, for being good sports

Luxurious Lemons to air conditioned offices and padded chairs (Should be padded walls)

Rosé to the wine tasting club (We'll drink to that)

A selective Lemon to the White House A-V squad, for having magnetized fingers at the right time

(But for Whom???)

Fragrant, medium rare Roses to Home Economics, for Bachelor Foods

Philosophical Roses to the poets, for making life worth it all (Or seemingly so)

JOAN C. REESE
GRADUATING CLASS
OF 1976

In the beginning

there was the dedication,

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1964, the first graduating class of Commack High School, dedicate AURA 1964, the first yearbook of Commack High School, to the graduates of the future.

May they profit from us — our mistakes, our accomplishments, our sorrows, our joys.

May they preserve the standards and traditions which we have initiated.

May they bring to fulfillment our aspirations for the honor and glory of Commack High School.

but this alone

does not make up a school.

The mind is the most delicate and integral facet of man's existence. His life revolves around its workings. It gathers up information and stows it away in every available fold of the brain. This knowledge is acquired through an infinite amount of sources. Each tries to shape the mind in a particular way and direction. School is an institution — a place to socialize, to learn, to think, and to taste of the many diversities. It is a place where your life can be steered onto a certain path. In school, the primary instrument by which the mind is molded is the FACULTY.

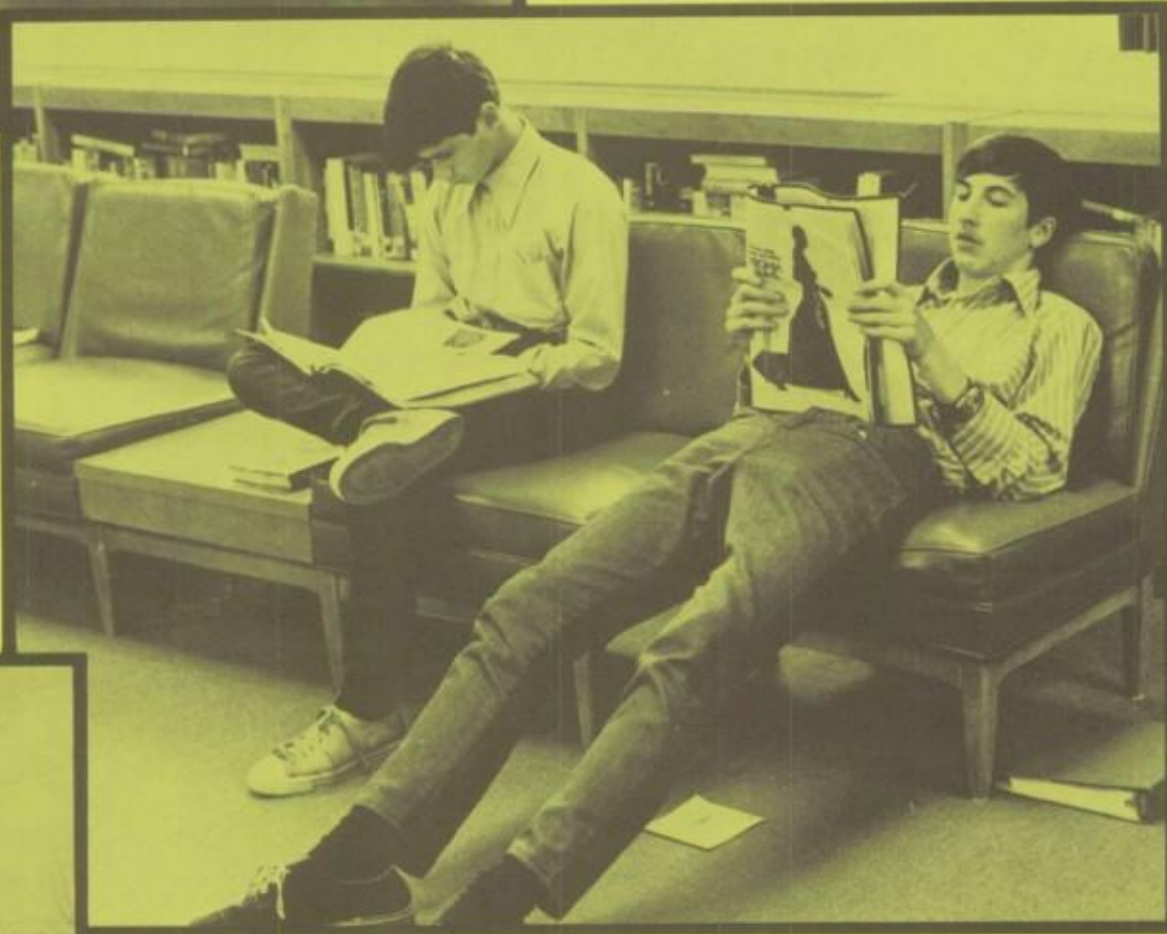

... but the mind cannot operate without a soul to guide it.

The soul is the moral center in man. It is a force that governs his thinking and his will. The soul of the school is the SENIORS. In this, their last year of high school, they must come to terms with themselves. School work may be secondary to understanding their dreams, aspirations, and desires. They are on a threshold. Their decisions may affect the rest of their lives. As seniors, they set an example (hopefully a good one) for the rest of the school.

. . . but just as man requires a mind and a soul, he also needs a heart.

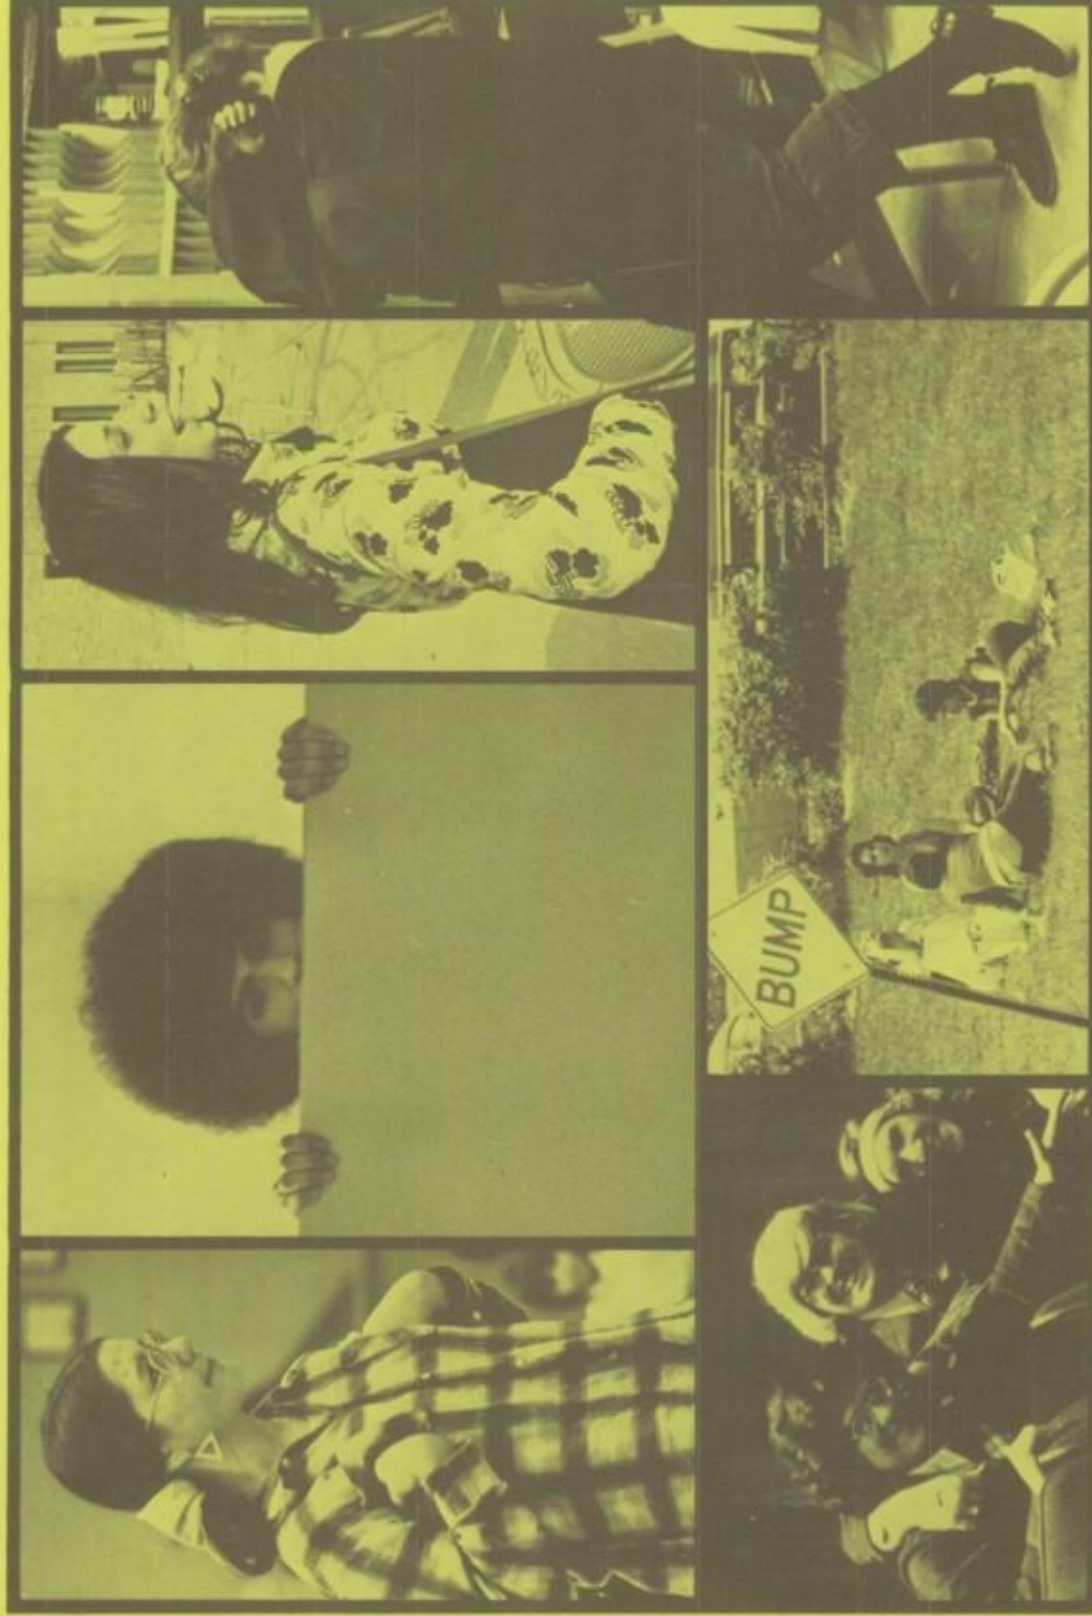

The heart is a life giving force. It is the core; — the center of emotions and feelings. Its pulse runs throughout Sophomore and Junior classes. They, the majority of the school, have the power in numbers, but first must learn what responsibility, organization, and cooperation are all about. They are continually being pumped full of facts, but more importantly they are being instructed on how to function in society. They will grow and mature while in school.

... but just as the school needs more than underclassmen, man needs more than a heart. He must have a physically fit body.

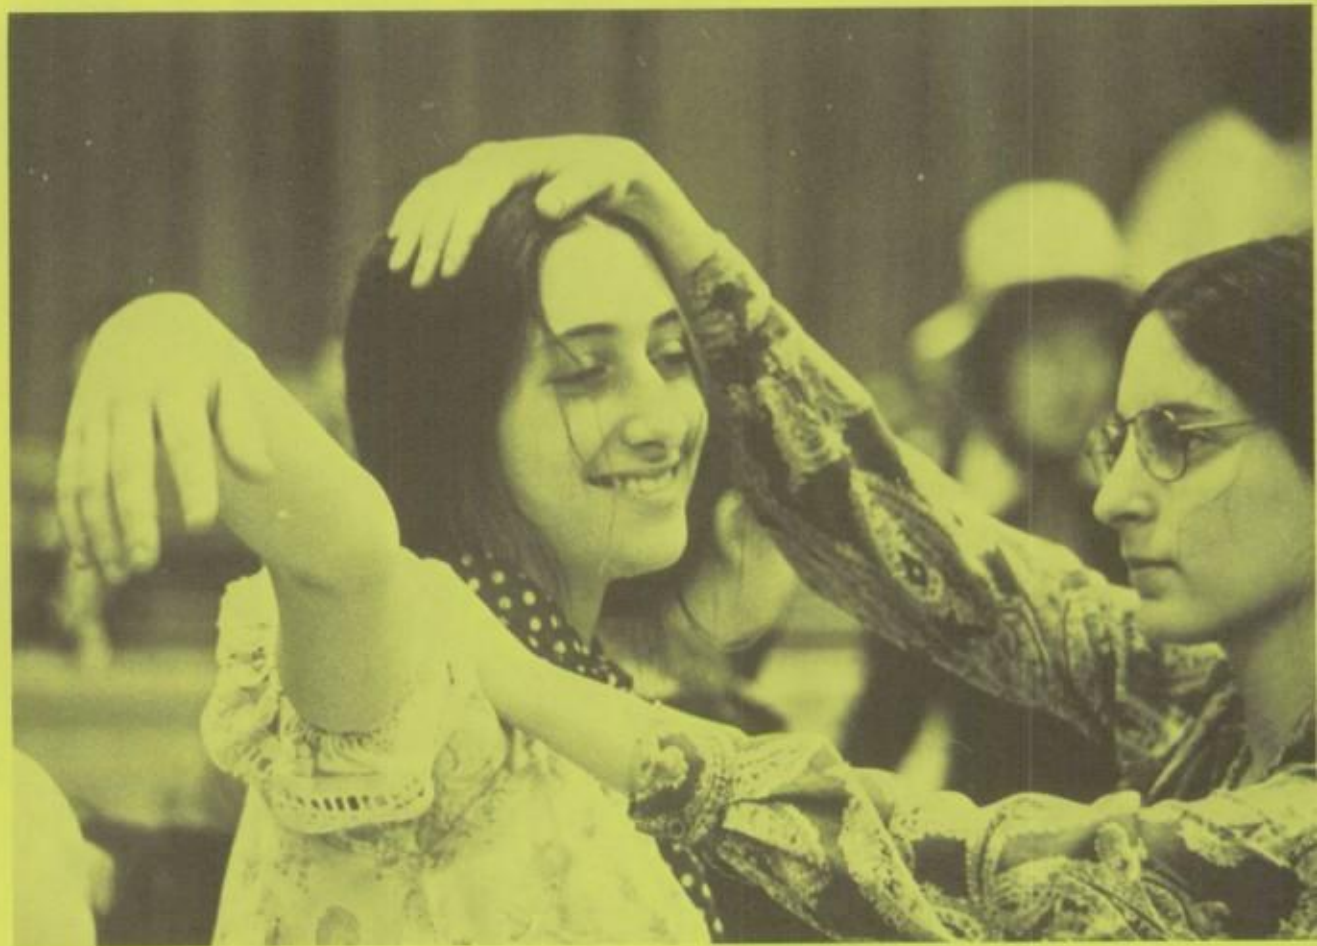

The body houses the vital elements of man. In order for man to accomplish his goals and the things demanded of him by others, he must have a body which is physically and mentally ready to serve him. A healthy body allows the mind to function without the added worries of ill health. The school Sports program provides the necessary exercise to keep the body fit. The mental preparation and self discipline acquired through sports can be used in life.

. . . but man needs more than just a good body and mind. He must do things in which he can let out his pent-up spirit.

Spirit is the energy and enthusiasm within man that causes him to get involved. It is a force that motivates him to volunteer, lend a helping hand, and give a cheer. School presents opportunities for students to express their spirit. You heard these chances everyday during the announcements. "There will be tryouts for Masque and Wig in the auditorium starting next week." "Varohi meets tomorrow." "Tickets for the Harvest Moon dance will be sold in homeroom." "Come support the football team in this Saturday's game." "There will be a short, but mandatory meeting of all Leaders Corps members after school." "Come to the pep rally today starting eighth period." "The riding club will go riding on November 7th." These ACTIVITIES AND CLUBS you belonged to gave you a headache sometimes, but in the end, a job well done brought satisfaction and deep, overwhelming feelings of accomplishment.

Thus, just as man needs a mind, a soul, a heart, a body, and spirit to survive, a school needs a faculty, seniors, underclassmen, activities, and clubs to be the experience that Commack North was.

Huh? What are they? Oh, I can have one clue. Thanks — what is it? “No peeking — keep your eyes on the copy.” Oh yeah, now I remember. They’re the home keys on a typewriter. But why is Aura, my beloved yearbook, concerned with the anatomy of a typewriter?

Let me think. Oh yes, I’m getting a picture now. Downstairs wing B of Commack H.S. North always had a clacking noise . . . typewriters! Now I remember — the Business Department.

Contrary to popular opinion, business courses weren’t a “drag” or for “dummies.” They were really helpful. The teachers prepared students for typing reports, secretarial jobs, and bookkeeping positions, as well as just plain introducing us to college courses (you know — Accounting, Business Law and Data Processing to name a few).

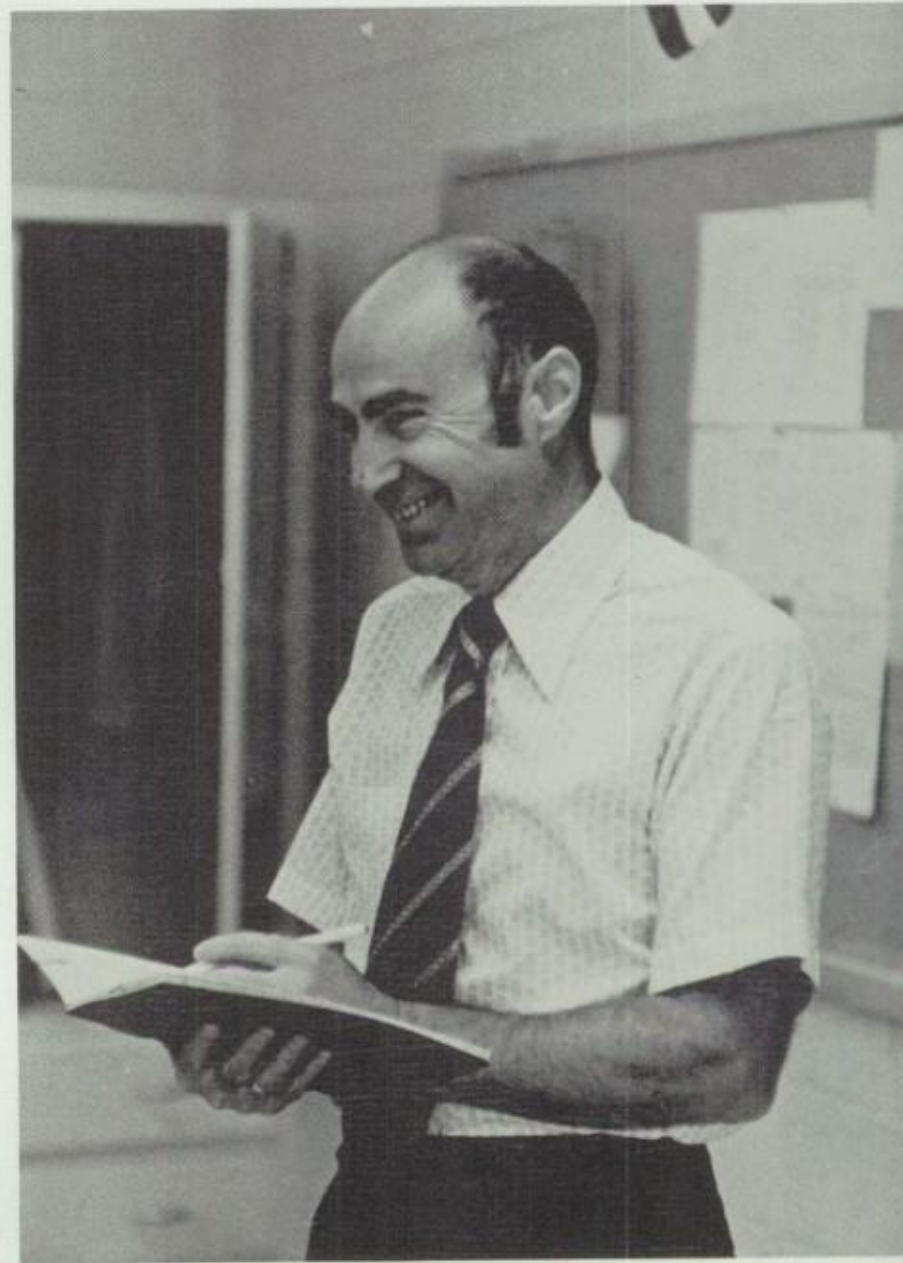

Remember how the Business Chairperson, Mrs. Frennesson used to run into the girls room with referrals trying to catch smokers? And Mr. Belluarado with the Bostonian accept who ran the school store?

Start with one ignorant teenager. Splash with flecks of Shakespeare, sprinkle with smidgens of poetry and a dab of grammar, add fritters of essays and a granule of novels, and top with a generous helping of usage sheets. Bake at 450° for approximately four years, and hocus-pocus-abracadabra, out pops a philosophically intellectual linguistic grammarian. At least that's what it says on the back of the box.

All seriousness aside, English class at Commack North has certainly been a memorable experience. Rather than confining the spectrum of the pupils' minds to the subject matter on the board, (as is done elsewhere in the building) the English curriculum made a sincerely genuine attempt to broaden the horizons of the students. Since most of the teachers were interesting enough to arouse most of the students, if the members of the class were responsive, the class was undoubtedly somewhat of a success.

The English teachers at Commack North appeared a bit more independent from the pressures of a rigid teaching outline, and consequently originality on the part of the teacher often made or broke the class. The informal, relaxing atmosphere of the English class, (in sharp contrast with the pedantic environment of other classrooms) sometimes made possible by merely a less stiff seating arrangement, enormously enriched the educational process.

With the hope of making the physical education system more interesting and worthwhile, lead teacher Mrs. Klimkowski — no Kolinski — no . . . Mrs. K started an elective program in gym class. The five man, oops, player squad will have to make a few changes in their game plan for next year, but with the help of the team’s tall, lanky, blonde center and forward (I get those two mixed up also) and Mr. Scesa, the resident golf pro, the following seasons will be better than this one.

Nobody Sick of Health

Perhaps the most relevant course available at Com-mack North, the one semester Health class, was indeed a gem. Masterfully taught by our residential experts Mrs. Herlich and Mr. Youngs, the success of the course lay in the provocative fashion in which it was taught.

Not quite the "brush your teeth three times a day" crap many students had anticipated, the instructors promptly made it apparent that they would transcend the trivial aspects of health and dwell upon the more pertinent features. With the effective utilization of a multitude of films and other innovative presentations, the class became a forum for discussing such controversial social problems as alcohol, drugs, and sex, as well as profoundly delving into the human personality and teaching the basics of first aid.

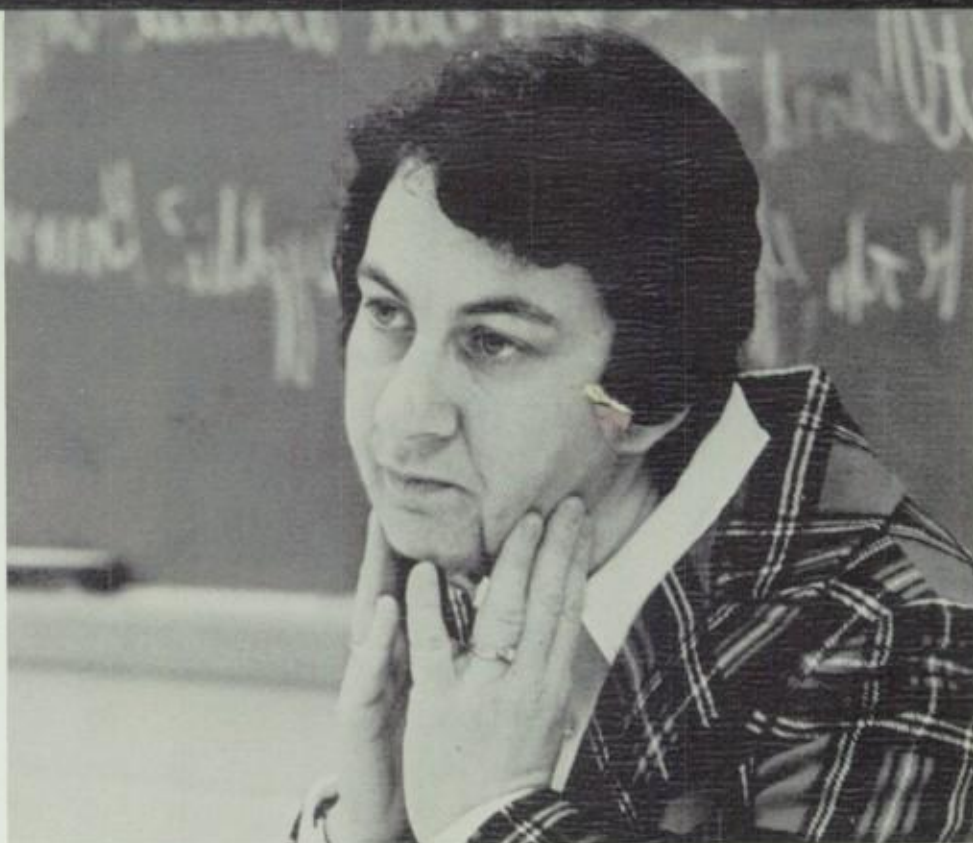

By enlightening the students rather than attempting to terrify them, a good deal was accomplished, and in a very "healthy" atmosphere.

MR. ROSS YOUNGS

If Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Bartholomew Hassenpfeffer IV have 26 aardvarks and 11 kangaroos, and Mrs. Hassenpfeffer (whose first name is Myrtle) gives birth at 17:00 pm on Doomsday February 47 in the glove compartment of a 1954 Volkswagen travelling at 139 mph on a dead end street in Walla Walla, Washington, what are the chances that the baby hippopotamus will be a left-handed, female hottentot who plays the harmonica in the bathtub and has venereal disease?? (There's one question like that on the Biology Regents every year.)

Anyway, science was an absolute panic all the way around. The rarest occurrence of all was coming out with the expected results on a chemistry lab. Occasionally, when that case did arise, the lab was immediately repeated, because obviously it couldn't possibly have been correct.

For the most part, the science teachers at Commack North know their stuff. However, it was still an enjoyable challenge to think up nonsensical, ridiculous questions just to stump them. (Many of the questions were absurdly gross.)

In retrospect, one of the funniest moments in the history of science occurred many moons ago, when one member of the class of '74, peering intently through a microscope, belatedly, "Come here, Mr. _____, I just found this really interesting orgasm!!!"

Were their viewpoints valid? Some students would agree while others would retaliate violently. They tried to give us some idea of what other people and countries are like. They tried to relate historical mistakes with the hope that we wouldn't make them again. They tried to give us some guidelines so that we could better function in society.

John,
It's been nice to know
such a helpful person.
You're a sweet guy, and
I'll miss you a lot.
Take it easy, and I'll see you next year when I visit!
Love,
Joanne

Commack North was more than just a place to learn. It was somewhere we each were able to develop our abilities. It was a place which saw our smiles as well as our tears, and had a way of coping with them all. We not only grew up, but learned how to get along with others. Those four years of our lives bring back a treasure of memories, some happy, some sad, some funny. There were times when we didn't have the slightest idea of what was going on, yet we will all never forget those times. After four years it really grew on us. Most of us met our friends there. With so many activities it was hard not to socialize. Where else was learning such an experience? The knowledge and understanding was hard to get, but all the effort was well worth it in the end.

Class Couples —

DOUG DOXEY AND DENISE REILLY
TIM WALSH AND CHRIS WAKUN
TOM ALLEN AND LORETTA DERUGA

Sometimes, Commack North was nothing more than finding someplace to go after you fell out of bed in the morning. Sometimes, it was an ulcer producing delight, but then there were times when the satisfaction of getting something done was just incomparable. You could really get tired of it, but over all it was really great when you consider all the activities and opportunities. This, our home away from home, was definitely a cloud with a silver lining on a rainy day.

Commack North was spending Saturday nights playing volleyball in the old girls' gym. It was school musicals and dramas, dances, affairs, the football season, and Friday night basketball games. It was cutting classes (and not getting caught). It was study halls on alternating Fridays, trying to leave the cafeteria, smoke inhalation in the bathrooms, waiting in the guidance office, escaping from the library, the teachers' green passes, and other little insanities. These are memories; these are days we'll never see again. Yet, it was only a stepping stone to bigger and better things. It was a place where minds were shaped and dreams were created. It was a relevant start to life itself. Looking back on those four years, Commack North was far from paradise on Earth, yet it was not Hell on wheels.

Last year was a very successful season for Commack North's Baseball Rams. The team finished with an overall record of 21 wins, 6 losses. The non-league season was outstanding with a total of 8 wins and no losses. The highlight was the team's capturing of the Port Jefferson Tournament Championship in a thrilling extra inning game. In League III play the Rams finished 11 wins and 5 losses good for a three way tie for 1st place. The league was very evenly balanced and the three teams that tied Commack North, Connetquot and Central Islip all were outstanding. Kings Park and Hauppauge who finished in 4th and 5th place were equally good and it was a year in which each team could boast of several very talented players.

In the county playoffs C.N. did very well defeating League VI Champion Mattituck and League I Champion Brentwood in what probably was the best spectator game of the year. In that game the Rams won 6-5 in the 9th inning defeating Brentwood and their All-County pitcher Ditmas. In that game the C.N. pitching was done by All-League pitcher Burt Price and All-County pitcher Woody Ryan. The next day in the County semi-finals League III lost out as the Rams lost to League II champ Commack South and Connetquot to League V champs Port Jefferson. All League players for Commack North were Price and Ryan and catcher, Bryan Egan and outfielder, Neal Sabel. In addition Woody Ryan was selected to the All County team.

After a number of positions were filled, the softball team once again came up with a winning season. For the second consecutive year, the team compiled a five and one record. Their only loss accounted for their second place finish in league standings.

Excellent defensive play, combined with fine batting and pitching, made this season a successful and enjoyable one.

At J.V. spring training camp Helinski reported 8 pounds overweight — mostly in the head, picked up a 20¢ fine and a 2 day virus from Nurse Rohan. Marek and his golden arm were supported by Doc Falot. Brandifeno was issued the wrong uniform and the younger of the famous Vihrachoff brothers systematically destroyed the walls of the gym with his deadly arm. Miaile (Superball) got a strange sickness after the first day of sit-ups — known as sit-upitis. Skip Pawul grew so tall he almost required an oxygen mask on the mound. Saturday's massive tryouts turned up all kinds of candidates — Black Bruce, Ostritch, Curly Carello, Shot gun Marcel, Rudy Pooh and other talent too numerous to mention. Coach Spofford missed practice Thursday and Friday (could be the coach was stiff).

During training camp "Blue Whale" Brack came out in a T-shirt and turned into a cryogenic cyborg because it was so cold. Razor Blade Scheckler came back from multiple haircuts to join the squad looking like Flash Gordon. Tangelfoot Tantillo missed his first 8 chances at first base, but when the chips are down you can count on Tangelfoot . . . to fall down. Chico Ruiz worked on cutting down on the gremlin population with his foul balls and Occupocker improved over his early seasons from when he caught Coach Barry's fly ball with his head — Bonk! Not to mention many other incidents.

The J.V. baseball Rams wound up their season with 17 wins and 7 losses; a lot of laughs and a fine performance.

The 1973 version of the spring track team posted a creditable 4-3 league record on the strength of a handful of outstanding performances and the efforts of a number of devoted steady performers.

The outstanding performers were Roger Barnes, Steve Courten and Bob Buonomo. Each placed in the top three in their respective events in the league championships. Each participated in two events at each meet, a grueling chore both mentally and physically. Incredibly Roger's events, the triple jump and high hurdles, were back to back. Tommy Quinlavin and Bob Hoade also placed high in the league championship meet. Roger and Steve each won a spot on the county team that competed in the state championship. This team is composed of the 50 best trackmen from the entire county.

The success of the team was really dependent on the dedicated steady performers, not the stars. Such runners as Paul DiPaola, Jim Watson, Ray Ahlberg, Mike Minnicozzi, Bob Hoade, Bob Young and Doug Rudley and Fieldmen Gary Kurtz, Doug LePorte, Jim O'Neil really made the team a winner.

The 1973 track season wasn't a monumental one. It wasn't filled with great victories because this wasn't a great team. This was a good team that couldn't afford to coast to a victory. Whether this team won or lost depended solely on the amount of work they put in the week before the meet. When they worked they won, when they didn't they lost. The greatest accomplishment of this team was that it worked for every victory and built a winning season out of what was destined to be a mediocre one.

Remember:
 winning our only meet and thinking that something went wrong our most successful piece of equipment(?) — the uneven bars — and how our junior high girls attempted to rescue us, one of our craziest veterans spending a second season on the disabled list and laughing her way through it.
 the best and most creative parts of our routines being made up on the spur of the moment when a judge was watching. Girls, look what happened when we were under pressure?
 trying to convince one of our high scorers to get up on the beam or do one of her aerials.
 the fantastic assembly where we put on a great ad-lib show without too many difficulties.
 having a CHSN alumna, Miss Bagglio, alias "Cookie" as our new coach.
 that even after losing a meet, we still had the high spirit during our bus ride home to sing our favorite team song SPASTICATION, among other things.
 not having working uneven bars until 3 days before our first meet.
 the rapid horse vault, floor exercise routines, and the balance beam routines which we exhibited during the Girls' Sports Nite.
 having an all-around fun season with the hopes that we all will be together again for another season.

With a final record of 12 wins and 6 losses and a second place title behind Harborfields in league III, the boy's tennis team had a remarkable season considering that the team had lost all of its starting players due to graduation. The team lost in the first round of the county playoffs to Bay Shore but in individual competition the first doubles team took third place in the league and went on to the county individual playoffs.

The returning members of the team: Seniors; Jack Hauth, Randy Raska, Dave Hymson and Juniors; Tom Damers and Bob Blannz will have their work cut out for them this year against Bay Shore and other tough schools.

"I hope it's not windy out." "Do you think MISS K will get out there before four o'clock?" "We have to beat Harborfields." "Tennis rackets have feelings too."

In China it's called the year of the tiger. Here it's the year of the "King" where male chauvinism was given a shot in the arm by the loss by Bobby Riggs. Tennis spirit was sent soaring. Practice in the warm, sunny, September afternoons made for light hearted fun and end of summer acquaintances. Girls in sneakers, shorts and college T-shirts littered the courts as overwhelming confidence prevailed the air.

As the stinging touch of winter approached the sweat pants were brought out and the enthusiasm mounted. The long, crowded bus rides with the field hockey team were always full of laughter and song as well as an occasional tense moment as demonstrated on the way back from West Babylon when it was discovered that Delia and Jane were left behind. Janet's accident was a blow to the team but Alice's and Cindy's undefeated season and MVP qualities were a boost. Optimism and hope were not shattered until the very end, but even then everyone managed to have a good time (hooray for tennis parties).

Tennis just wouldn't be tennis if it wasn't for ill fitting, coarse material uniforms; Cindy's disastrous falls; Anne's homeruns; Debbie's lollipops; Janet G's onionhead tennis game; Alice's mysterious green truck; Robyn's never ending food supply; Janet C's mid-practice dentist appointments; Janet I's sweet, demure, big mouth; Barbara's knack of getting hit from behind with the ball; Jane's "coaching" Delia and Delia's "coaching" Jane and the team's undying belief in victory. This was certainly a fun season.

Certainly many teams have worked as hard in the world of sports and met with seemingly little fortune, but few will have the memories and accomplishments of the 1973 Rams Football team.

Led by the determination and positive attitude of their new head coach, John Diclemente, the Rams traveled to Connetquot anticipating a victory. They lacked confidence and the unfamiliarity with their new offense was apparent for the first four games. Larry Campbell's 55 yd. run highlighted the game.

Week two saw Bayshore, perhaps the strongest team in the league, defeat the Rams and left them eying Commack South. The biggest game of the year, filled with excitement and despair left the Rams 1½ yards from the end-zone and handed them a 14-0 loss.

Happague's offense struck quickly and left Commack playing catch-up football. Finally in the 4th quarter, halfback Bob Young began his brilliant running performance which earned him all-league honors. He ran 65 yards for a touchdown and got the team rolling.

The next week the Ram's offense and defense were ready to beat West Babylon. West Babylon scored on a 60 yard bomb but the Rams recovered quickly and went ahead on a Larry Campbell touchdown. Joe Barbarita caught a T.D. pass in the second half. The margin of victory for West Babylon was provided for by a kickoff returned for a West Babylon touchdown opening the second half.

Homecoming game 1973. 0-5 on the season, the Rams played their hearts out against a powerful East Islip Redmen team. A tough Ram defense led by Pete Varisano, Bob Weiss, Larry Campbell, Ed Gracofsky and Jack Galletta held the Redmen to one touchdown. An interception gave E. I. another T.D. Two long T.D. runs by Bob Young provided the two Ram scores, which fell short by four points.

Having won the reputation of playing tough football, the Com-mack Rams traveled to Sayville to avenge last year's 63-8 shellacking. Bob Young amassed 200 plus yards with three touchdowns, one coming on a 96 yard kickoff return in the first quarter. The Rams again fell short by four points.

When Copague came to Com-mack it was no contest for a Ram team, far matured since their opening game on September 29. Copague was unable to stop Bob Young who again ran for more than 200 yards and 3 touchdowns. Bob Hoade, who had a fine day at fullback, also ran for a touchdown.

The final game of the 1973 season was on Thanksgiving morning, November 22, capping three months of hard work, sweat and tears. The Rams' trapping offense of Joe Geiser and Vinny Miaile was greatly outsize by the Mac-Arthur Generals of Nassau.

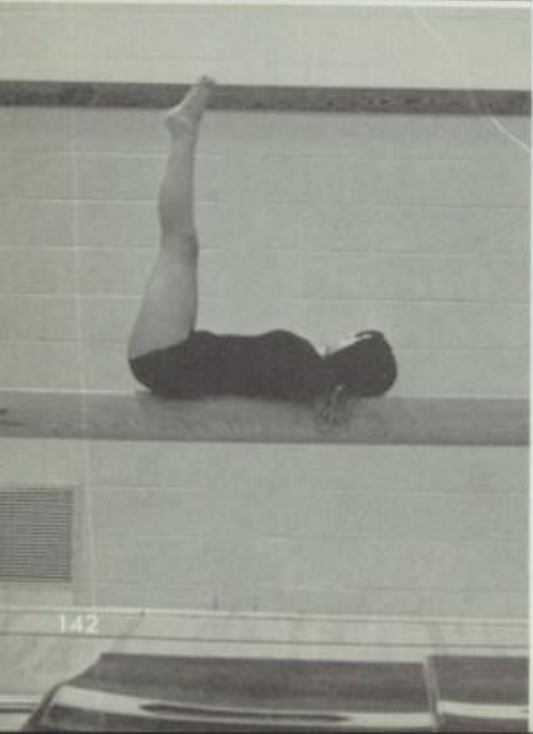

The Generals were able to score only 10 points, but their strong defense shut down the Ram offense.

A fine Junior Varsity record of 6-1-1 leaves Coach DiClemente eyeing future success next year.

1973 Varsity Field Hockey

The taste of victory was as sweet as a field hockey player. We worked hard and we were always in contention for the banner. Now it's just a beautiful lesson in sportsmanship and leadership. To many, field hockey is a forgotten school activity. But it is special to its players. If I could only relive those memories.

Players edged down the field uncertain of their future. The battered ball picked up motion, as it galloped to the goal cage. Bodies collided with the opposition in a flash of gold and white. Mouth and shin guards, knee pads and sticks were the ball was a pendulum swinging back and forth between inners and wings. Racing, racing, racing.

Our offense continued their attack. Once an almost impregnable wall, the goalie's fortress was crumbling. The striking circle, a goalie's last battlement was invaded as sticks hurled. All of the anxiety of the game was combined in the skill of one special girl, almost in slow motion her stick swung backward. The stick's energy ignited the ball, soaring it into the realms of victory. Their goalie drove through space to blocking that missile of white. She landed hard on the ground, almost echoing her failure . . . Score!

This year's soccer team was marked by some great performances from each of its players. Everyone contributed to the team. Our captains, Chuck Darrel, Doug Doxey, and Randy Raska each made all-league with Chuck Darrel making the All-Suffolk team. Another player that made the all-league team was Junior, Maurice Ryan. In the nets, two fine goalies helped us to our 10-5-2 record and to the County Playoffs for the third straight year. The starting goalie, Louis Brandofino, a Junior, played superbly. Our back-up goalie, Steve Gill, who has let up an amazing 1 goal in 24 quarters of play, was there when he was deeply needed. Perhaps the finest game of the season was played against former county champs, Northport. This game ended in a 0-0 tie. Finally, the team had a very strong bench. They were there when key players were injured. Senior John Marchese, the "Corner Kick Specialist," came in for the right wing on the field along with Mark Grennan. These two were part of the specialty team that came in for a corner kick. Sophomore Mark Grennan scored two goals as a result of this and four goals were scored from John Marchese's corner kicks. But, as in all teams, the Coach, Mr. Fallace, deserves a lot of credit. His hard work and strategic ability got this team to do

After a promising start, the girls volleyball team suffered two defeats, which accounted for their second place finish in league play. With only one week of practice, the team entered in a volleyball tournament, sponsored by the Suffolk County Board of Woman Officials. Outstanding playing throughout the tournament brought about several victories and the first place trophy.

With a lot of spirit, hope, and skill, we faced our first opponent. The margin of victory was decisive as we were victorious over Harborfields.

Our next match proved to be a heart-breaker. Our opponent this time was Copague. Despite outstanding performances by all team members, the team fell short in very close games.

We then moved on to Amityville. We had previously played this team in the tournament finals. We knew we were in for a rough match. After winning the first game, the girls dropped an 11-2 lead in the second game. With a little luck, and a lot of cool, the girls once more pulled through.

The following day we faced Babylon. After a good start in the first game, we fell behind and lost. We then lost the second game by a large margin.

Bouncing back as soon as possible, the team got back on the winning track. Decisive victories over Kings Park, Smithtown West, and John Glenn concluded the season. The teams final record was five wins and two defeats. Under the fantastic coaching of Miss Barbara Gross, the team came up with a satisfying season.

This year, Commack wrestlers bettered their last year's record. The season started with a close match with Comsewogue with Commack losing by only two points. The wrestling Rams went on to win the next three and come out of the Christmas tournament victorious. We had quite a few champions and runners up at the Christmas tournament.

There were some good things to remember about this year and some unpleasant things to remember. The beginning of every practice was enlivened by the professional wrestling antics of Roy Mangione and Vinny Maiale, the team's two heavyweights. Then if they weren't doing flying drop kicks and sleeper holds, they were running away from or, usually after the team's lightweight. The little guys may have the least weight but they seemed to more than make up for it in mouth. John Jacobs, Jack Hearne, and Bob Sherman were at the forefront of this group with maybe Jimmy Plasteris helping out now and then.

Jumping jacks can really teach you coordination. Randy Davenport learned to do jumping jacks correctly, count to 50 and hold up his sweat pants all at the same time. Paul DiPaola was our team's most conscientious weight watcher. He consistently had 8 pounds to lose three days before the match. The amazing thing is that he always lost the weight in time. Maybe he could teach Dr. Atkins a thing or two.

Some of our wrestlers are quite unique. Jim "rubber arms" Watson was unpinna-ble. No matter how hard an opponent would try to turn Jim over or work his arms, it was to no avail. Those arms would just keep on bending. Have you ever seen someone with triple-jointed shoulders? John Abruzzo became an expert at a special move of his. The members of the team christened it the Abruzzo headlock. Let the other man get a little high on John or hang his head over and he was gone. The other guy suddenly found himself being pinned. Jack Galletta had the dubious honor of wrestling Gary Kurtz, an outstanding wrestler who graduated last year. Jack is Gary's protégé, hoping to have next year, a record as amazing as Gary's.

The team suffered several unfortunate and badly timed injuries. During the winter vacation, David Polly broke his ankle wrestling in a match against Newfield. That put him out of action for the rest of the season and most importantly, the League Championships. David was really looking forward to taking a place in the leagues this year. Next year for sure! Mark Lazurus, who was league champ in his weight class last year, injured his shoulder just before the leagues. He wrestled ineffectively with the bum shoulder. Mark Infranco who placed in the leagues last year had a fever at the leagues this year and it weighed on him heavily. Even the coach, Mr. Patterson, had an injury. He twisted his ankle . . . playing basketball. He could have at least done it wrestling.

Bill Pizzolatto filled in at the 158 weight class when Dave broke his ankle. Bill went on to take fourth in the leagues at his weight class. He was the only member of the team to place this year and go on to the counties.

Next year is looking to be a good year. Under the coaching of the J.V. coach Mr. Hill, our JayVee team turned up an outstanding record, beating their opponents to decisively win most of their matches. With that kind of strength next year, we should have no trouble being a first rate team. Only three seniors are graduating. Joe Geiser, Paul DiPaola and Bruce Buehner. That leaves an almost full line-up of seniors. It's going to be a good year. TTFN (ta ta for now).

Cross Country:

A Case of Divine Intervention
In the beginning God created legs. And then there were lungs. And God asked for what can thou use thy legs and thy lungs. And God said "let there be Cross Country." And the season was begun. For the first six hot, humid afternoons there was work, building up the legs, strengthening the lungs, cursing the hills. On the seventh day there was the meet.

And the Rams won that first meet. And they built a Solid team. One by one Tom Quinlavin, Paul DiPaola, Ray Ahlberg, Doug Rudley and that rare hairy species Mark Pizzolatto improved and grew strong and powerful. And for forty days and forty nights the team walked, talked, slept, ate and drank Cross Country. And they asked what they had done to deserve God's wrath. Was that the voice of God we heard in our worst nightmares commanding, "and for the next part of your workout . . . Miami and back three times hard."

And the Lord commanded Tommy Quinlavin to lead the team through the peaks and valleys and endless trails of the Sunken Meadow Course for forty long years. But instead of wandering aimlessly around the course for 40 years Tommy found the promised land in 13 minutes and 6 seconds (a school record). And God was pleased by this miracle. And he heaped medal upon medal on Tommy's skinny chest. And God sent Tommy to the State Championships, where he streaked to further glory.

And the Lord was pleased with the rest of the team as well, for following Tommy's lead, God realized that his chosen runners had scorned the sins of previous Commack Cross Country runners. They didn't cut mileage off workouts or slow down when the coach wasn't looking. They had accepted the Lord's Commandment and finished the season with a winning record.

muddy trails and even behind a truck spraying insecticide. And the Lord put temptation in the runners' eyes. He taunted them with the girls' tennis team and scorekeepers to test if they would leave Cross country for lust and the soft life. And when they could resist temptation no longer, the Cross Country team played the Girls' Tennis team. And God was angry, he punished his wayward runners — the girls' Tennis team demolished the Cross country team. And thereafter the chosen runners stuck to running.

And one day God realized that the generation of Rudley, DiPaola, Ahlberg, and Pizzolatto was getting too old to lead. The new generation that did not know the torment of building a strong team from dust was now emerging. They are the first generation of Commack runners to inherit a winning tradition. And they too shall toil to keep the faith. And the older generation'll graduate. Thank the Lord, At Last!

Basketball Highlights

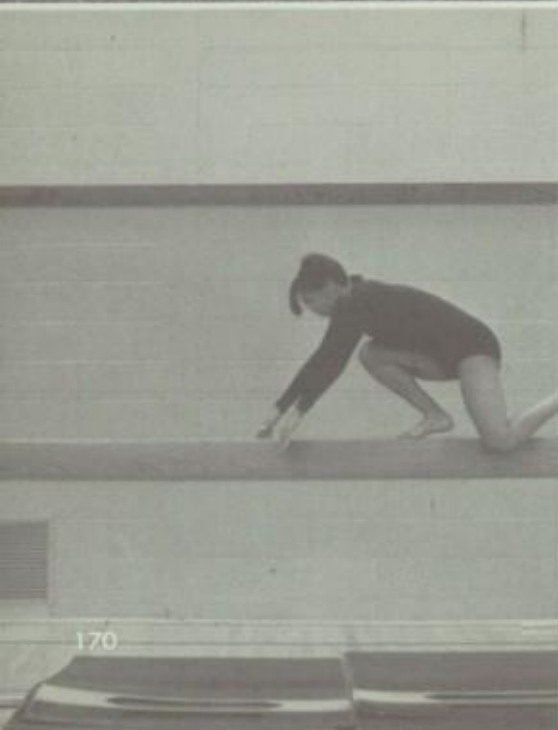

Some highlights of the 1974 Varsity Basketball season were . . . All-league Scott Kindermann being named to the All-League Three Team . . . All-Around superb play by Jack Grennan . . . great half-season by injured Neal Sobel . . . Bill Brody's "bombs" from "downtown" . . . Mark Grennan's ferocious rebounding . . . Skip Pawul's ferocious shooting . . . Al Helinski's triple-pump lay-up . . . Tommy Damers actually dribbled with his right hand — once . . . Lenny Guerra falling off the rim . . . Paul Benevintine making a lay-up . . . Steve Fuchs scoring a career high of 5 points . . . and Jeff Friedman, Bill Usbeck, and Kenny Hudecek getting into a game.

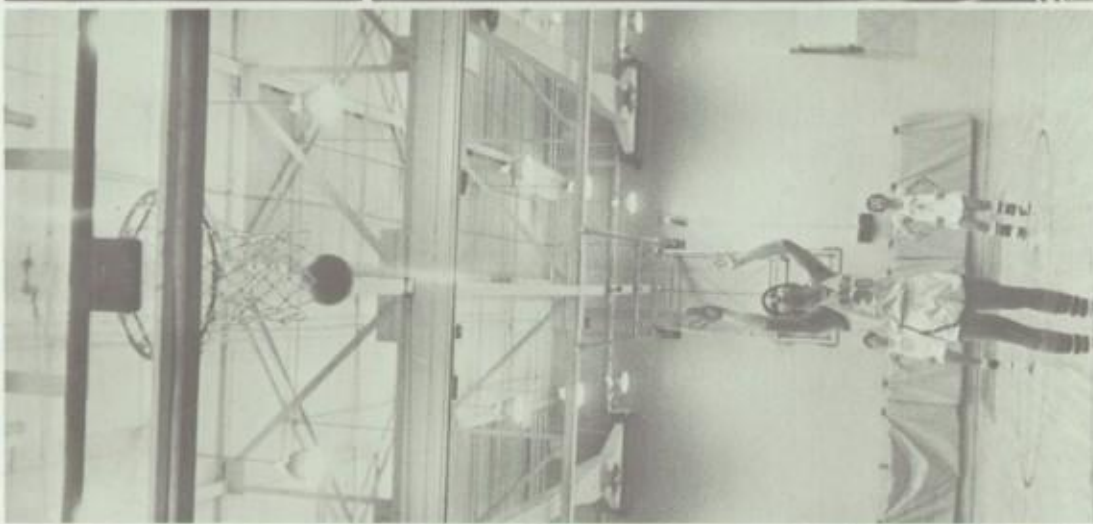

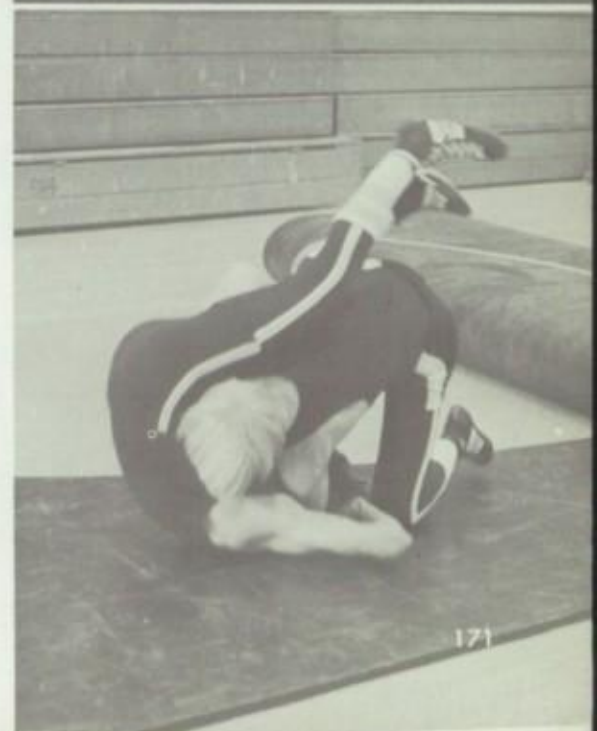

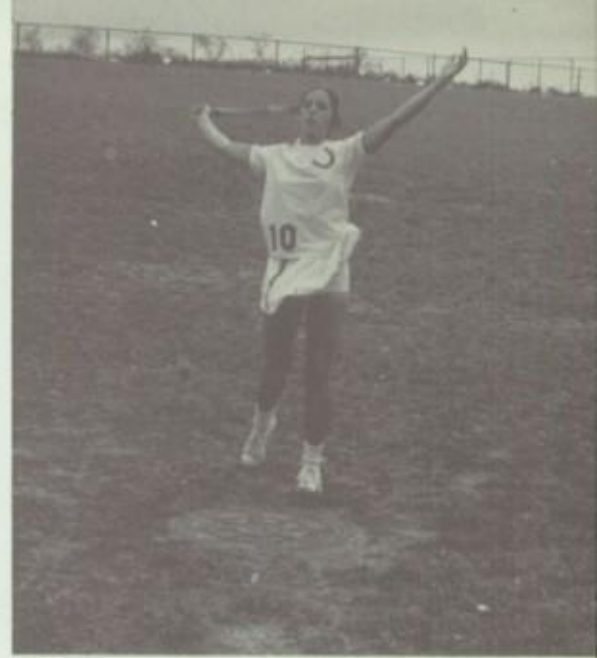

Other highlights —

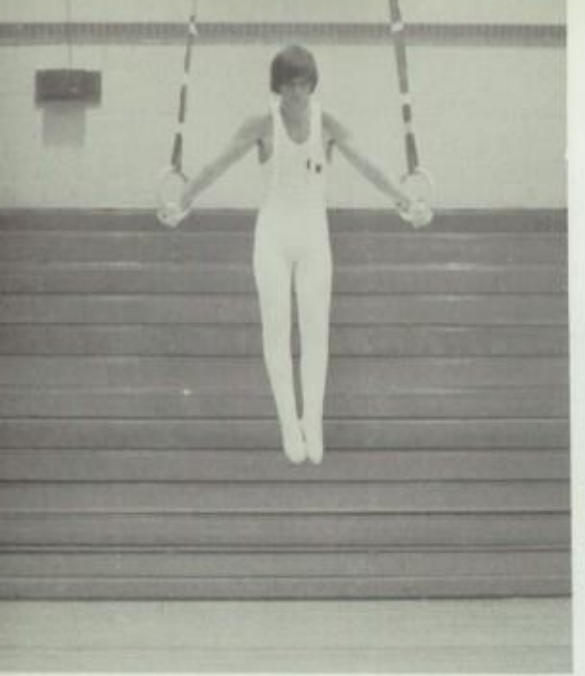

— two technical fouls to Scott Kindermann . . . whatever happened to the 52 laps?
— Who's that doing "hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil" on the bench? . . . I guess they have to pass the time somehow.
— Neal Sobel landing on his left leg wrong, thus injuring his right leg.
— Good, boisterous crowds aid in come-from-behind victories against Happauge and West Babylon . . . "come on guys — keep it clean" — R. Kreamer.

— Kenny Hudecek forced to quit, on account of a 60 in math . . . that was the last time the three monkeys appeared together.
— Some good Sunday practices . . . "Someone call an ambulance!"
— Fantastic one-on-one referee Jeff Friedman kept things under control . . . too bad we never found a champ.
— Bill Usbeck's 3 pt. play against Bay Shore . . . it was for naught — final score: Bay Shore 87, Commack 45.
— Jack and Mark Grennan singing in the locker room "It's a Family Affair" . . .
— Rich Reniere called up to Varsity to play against Happauge . . . had a nice, long chat with Usbeck and Friedman — 32 minutes to be exact.
— Dedicated manager Bob Sharman, Dave L., and Bobby "What's-his-name" Weiss worked their own rotation . . . which also never worked out. We almost had one manager at each game . . . and practices???

A well seasoned varsity basketball team with an unmistakable air of confidence started this season with the firm conviction that this was the year Commack North would assert its power, talent and teamwork and finally take the banner. The crushing blow by Babylon in the play-offs last year would not be reenacted again. The team proved that they could take command of a game and hold their opponents in check while putting on an impressive offensive show in the Lindenhurst and John Glenn games. They exhibited remarkable poise and a "never, say die" attitude in the Northport game and against Harborfields in the Oakdale tournament as they won both games with come from behind victories. They showed they could play a well balanced, well played team game when they were matched against a strong Farmingdale team. For the first time in many years they beat Babylon (in the Oakdale Tournament) and did it convincingly.

However, this was just the beginning. Even though they had improved immensely, they found that the other teams in their league had become stronger also. The "mighty" Babylon had fallen to Amityville and Copiague was rumored to be extremely rough. However, strong rebounding by Cindy Geidel (co-captain), Kathy Tierney (co-captain) and Felisia Nash; fantastic shooting by the Kellys (Ginny and Judy); excellent defense by the guards: Mary Imbriale, Robyn Wishoff and Judy Schreiber, all-round good play by Lorraine Cannata who worked herself up from J.V. and great coaching by Miss Kolczynski will meet the test and overcome the odds. Although this is written prematurely before the end of the season and before the final outcome of league standings are known it is safe to say that if the team plays up to its capabilities they should be number one and they certainly deserve it after so many years of hard work.

Student Faculty Advisory Committee

In its second year of existence, the Student Faculty Advisory Committee has attempted to build better rapport between teacher-aides and students; recommended to the administration that sophomores have permission to leave the building for lunch; and has revised the smoking policy with hopes of consent from the Board of Education.

The S.F.A.C. consists of six elected students, six elected faculty members, a non-voting administrative representative, and a nonvoting student chairman. The S.F.A.C. has the power to hear testimony and reports and make recommendations to the administration regarding the following areas: disciplinary policy review, curriculum review, students rights or privileges, and policy review, any persons students, faculty, administrative or community member may submit a request for a hearing.

This year's student representatives are seniors, Bob Shaiman and Russ Papia; Juniors, Ferdy Irizarry and Bruce Herlich; Sophomores, Barbara Bergan and Jeff Schwartz. Arlene Beck and Barbara Zuccaro are secretaries. Mr. Iberti, Mrs. Galinsky, Mr. Mayer, Mr. Giacobbe, Mr. Pomponio, and Mrs. Harrison are the faculty representatives; Mr. Phillips is the administrative representative and Marie Sciortino, student council vice president, presides as chairperson of the committee.

Do you remember those meetings, planning trips and deciding where and when to go?
 Do you remember those lines for signing up for each trip?
 Do you remember awakening at 3 A.M. to catch the bus at 5 A.M. and then the bus being late?
 Do you remember the cold air and cursing the bus for being late . . . THEN . . .
 Do you remember getting on the bus and settling down? Finally on our way.
 How about just dozing off when that dummy in the back of the bus starts to snore?
 Do you remember those little [BIG] nips SHHH! in the back of the bus?
 And those 10 min. rest stops turning into a half hour . . . THEN . . .
 Finally arriving at the slopes.
 Remember looking for skis
 Remember getting on the long lift lines
 Remember the fright going up the lift
 Remember freezing and being paralyzed at the top and someone pushing you down.
 Remember the free feeling like you own the world
 And then praying you'll stop.

"Fashion" was the word of the day on April 8, 1973 when Commack H.S. North Home Economics Club held a fashion show and sewing contest titled "Everything Coming Up Fashion for Spring." One hundred students and faculty from Commack H.S. North, Burr Road Jr. High School and J.F.K. Junior High School modeled outfits that they had sewn.

A panel of judges reviewed the outfits and prizes were awarded for the best garments in different fashion categories. Refreshments prepared by the Home Economics Club were served. The proceeds from this successful fashion show were used toward a Home Economics Scholarship fund. Everyone involved with the event felt that the results were well worth the effort that they had contributed.

Old Man Time! Toy soldiers and a Jack-in-a-box for their leader! Charlie Brown and his faithful Snoopy! This doesn't look like an introduction to a night of competition in athletics and creativeness. But that was the way our First Annual Girls' Sports Night opened up. It was amazing how fast the Girls' Leaders Corps, who sponsored the Sports Night, and all the participating girls, numbering about 200, had worked to make the night a success. They had only a month to complete the project, besides making the rules and regulations.

For those who missed sports night you missed an opportunity to have some fun. You also missed some good entertainment too! There were two teams, black and gold, with "Children's Hour" as the central theme for the evening. The Black team displayed the wonderful world of the Peanuts Gang. A giant Snoopy rallied support for his team. "Toyland" was the theme of the gold team, reliving happy memories of childhood. Magical toys and soldiers marched in their little parade. Both of these lively teams were to meet in athletic events, such as cage ball, basketball, races, gymnastics and dance. But spirit and creativeness were also large factors in determining the winning teams.

A night of screaming girls, running make-up and a cheering crowd ended with a close decision. The black team was the victor. Rivalry didn't last long afterwards. The girls hugged each other for their own little victories. They didn't need a trophy to tell them that they had worked together to reach a common goal in athletics and creativeness, and still be feminine. Sports night had brought out many of the girls' hidden talents. They had proved that they could be leaders.

Do you remember:

Ellen Shea getting pushed off her donkey by Bryan Egan;

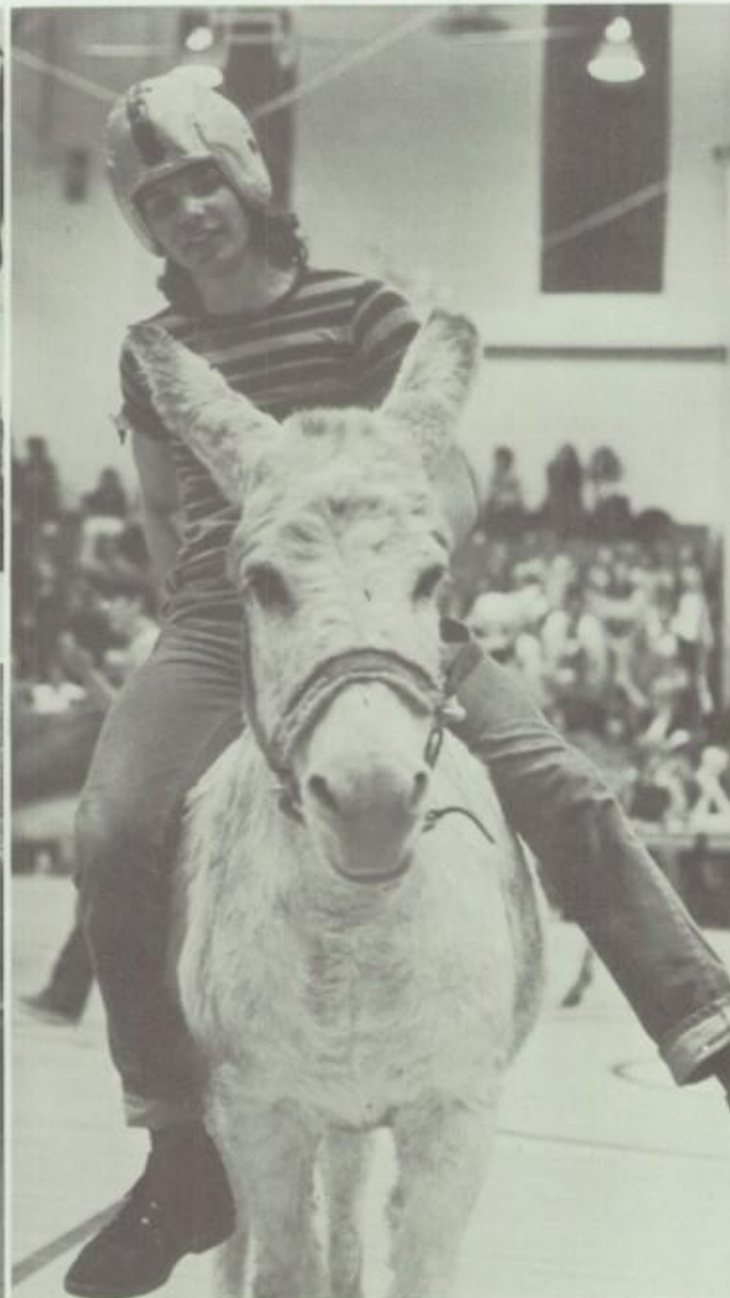

Bob Shaiman cleaning up the donkey dung;

The smell of the gym when the donkeys were brought in;

The trouble people had staying on their donkeys;

The senior Indians and junior Pirates;
 The temptation to let go of your donkey because it wouldn't move;
 Little kids, (and even big kids) petting the donkeys at half time;
 The terrific rivalry between the two classes;
 Ken Washington getting kicked in the stomach by his donkey

4:30 "Hey Ma, what time is it?"

"It's 4:30. Don't you think you should get dressed?"

Up the stairs I charge for the first time. "Where's my uniform? . . . MA!! . . . I got my left glove, now where's my right one?" As I run up the steps for the 12th time, I suddenly realize that I'll be marching in front of 7,000 people, HELP!!!

I can't stand it any longer. It's finally time to go.

"Mom, can I drive to school?"

"NO!"

5:00 I walk into the band room and get hit with a thousand "hellos." Everyone is in such a great mood. The spirit all of a sudden is overwhelming. Hey, who was that kickline person who just asked me how I am? Look on the board.

HOFSTRA!!! HERE COME THE COMMACK MARCHING RAMS Now comes the mad rush for the plumes. "Hey Stein, Your plume looks like a plucked chicken!" . . . "You knocked my mouthpiece over and it went under the piano."

"HEY EVERYBODY!! SHUT UP! BARREDA WANTS TO TALK!!"

This will be the second time that I have heard a pep talk concerning Hofstra. It sort of brings back some memories of 1970. . . . Yes Ralphie, we'll do a good job. You know we never let you down in the end. Everyone is so worried about doing a good job, and thinking about how they will look.

"Wakun! Your neck hook is undone. Let me do it for you."

"LET'S GET GOING!!"

5:00 "We're from Commack, and we couldn't be prouder. So if ya can't hear us, we'll yell a little louder! HEY! We're from . . ." What a miracle. Four days ago we weren't even thinking about going to the Newsday Marching Band Festival, and now we are actually on our way. I remember when I was a freshman, and I was on the bus going to Hofstra. Those poor sophomores and juniors. They must be shaking in their sneakers.

"What do you mean — we're here already? . . . There are the lights. Oh yea, I remember those buildings . . . And there's the stadium. My God, my stomach is going wild!!!"

6:25 The bus is pulling into the parking space, but they won't let us off the bus. "Gather up all of your belongings and give them to Mr. Hall. Everybody OFF!!!"

HA HA Look at the chaperones. They look like moving men with all those blankets, jackets, hats, and thermoses.

"Quick, line up . . . Where's my drum stick? . . . Get into block band . . . Alberta, I know you'll do a great job. You won't drop the banner . . . Is my belt in the right place? . . . Good luck Freeman . . . Hey Spadanuta, play loud . . . Imperiale, remember to pick up your feet . . . Good luck all you sophs and juniors."

BEEP BEEP BEEP BEEP ATTENTION!!

"Look, there's another band. They sure do look big."

6:40 This astroturf is strange. It's like marching on a sponge.

"Hey Ebner! Space yourself off! . . . Percussion — Please get that cadence right!! If only just for tonight." FORWARD MARCH!!!

Nobody is in the stands yet. Why are we marching for nobody? I'm SCARED, and no one is even here yet. Oh, that's why. It's only quarter of seven.

7:15 We're seated in our section. Section 13 . . . I sure hope that this won't give us any bad luck. Uncle Ralphie sure looks like he's got a lot on his mind, but he's smiling.

Boy, am I glad that I wore all those pairs of long-johns. It's COLD out here! I've finished off ½ of my hot chocolate already, and the festival hasn't even started yet.

"Hey Muller, fix the drumhead! The Ram is on upside down!!!"

Everyone is assuring us that we'll do a great job. We even started talking to some of the band members from St. John the Baptist. They also wished us good luck. Speaking of luck, good luck Mr. Blunt. I hope everything goes O.K. in the press box.

8:00 "Oh say can you see . . ."

The Newsday Marching Band Festival at Hofstra Stadium has actually started, and we are here. It's really great to have so many people come together and have a good time. The band that played the "Star Spangled Banner" really did a good job. They probably feel great at this moment.

8:15 There goes the first band on. UGH! Do they ever look bad. Just look at those snake lines!! HA!

HA! Well maybe I shouldn't really be laughing. Who knows? We'll look out on the field. "Hey, look at that baritone player marching on the wrong foot!! He must be a rookie band member." Oh well, it must be almost time for us to go.

8:25 There goes St. John the Baptist Band. If they are number 4, and we are number 5, that means we are next to go down!! UGH!!! "Gail Just, pick up your flute! It's time to go! LET'S GO ALREADY!!"

8:30 "Why do I have to be the first out on the field? . . . Look at all the lights! . . . Cundari, don't forget to play loud and pick up your feet! . . . Good luck, Belmonte!! . . . Laura Pincus, please don't cry, or else you'll start me cryin'."

Boy, this waiting is unbearable. I wish it were already over. Suddenly I remember to check my shoe-laces. Oh dear. "Uh Greg, could you tie my shoe please. Thanks, and good luck to you." Remember everybody, we worked too long and too hard to do a crummy job tonight. Remember — PICK UP YOUR FEET!!!

Onto the sidelines. St. John's is almost finished with their show. "Hey Stempel, remember to twirl your cymbals! . . . Everyone at parade rest. We're just about ready to go on."

8:50 There goes Greg. I guess this is it.

BEEP BEEP BEEP BEEP ATTENTION "1, 2, 3" Where's all that noise coming from? Up there in the right corner, it's all the kids from Commack North and South. They're here to cheer us on . . . My God!! It's snowing confetti!! WOW!!

Now to think about the show. "Victors" . . . FM32 RS16 FM . . . "Holly Holy" . . . LF . . . And down. Thank goodness for "Camptown," at least it's a rest. BEEP BEEP BEEP "25 or 6 to 4" . . . RM8 . . . Dinwheel32 . . . LF16 . . . Concert formation . . . RUN . . .

IT'S OVER!!! (Sigh of relief)

9:00 It's over. It went so fast. "How did we do?" "Quick everybody, into blockband! . . . Which way? . . . Right or left. . . I don't know. . .

Let's show them that we can march off the field to our seats too. Everybody is so unbelieving, and has a smile on their face. I can't believe that it's already over. Especially after all those long rehearsals.

Look at Mr. Barreda. He's smiling. We did a great job. What a terrific feeling.

"Beauparant, I saw you picking up your feet . . . Congratulations, Young and Schechter. You did everything right . . . Hey Baxley, what a great job holding that sax section together. What would we have done with you? . . . I really feel great."

9:30 We are finally back in our section. Nobody can watch the other bands because they are so excited about the performance. It is either that, or they are freezing. Now is the time to get out the blankets, jackets, hats, gloves, and thermoses filled with hot chocolate. It's cold!!!

"What's that? You need another person to go with you to the bathroom? O.K. I'll go with you, that will make 4. (HA HA HA) . . . Rofes, do ya want anything from the food stand? You're kidding, 5 hot dogs?"

Here come all the Commack spectators!

10:30 It's time to go down for mass band. "Where do we line up? I can't see the conductor, can you Lorraine? . . . This is going to be a wild.

UGH!! This sounds like mass MISH MOSH, not mass band. "Hey Peterson, have fun with that high note." Nobody is together. We are so bad, that the conductor had to stop us, and start over again. Well, one more time.

11:00 It's really over now, and we have to march all the way back to the busses. Now the stands are empty, and our performance at Hofstra is only a memory.

"Janet Marmor, pass it back. Everyone yell RAMS on the 8th beat." RAMS RAMS RAMS RAMS

"Give me a R . . . A . . . L . . . P . . . H . . . I . . . E . . . What does that spell? "RALPHIE" What? "RALPHIE . . . " "YEA . . . "

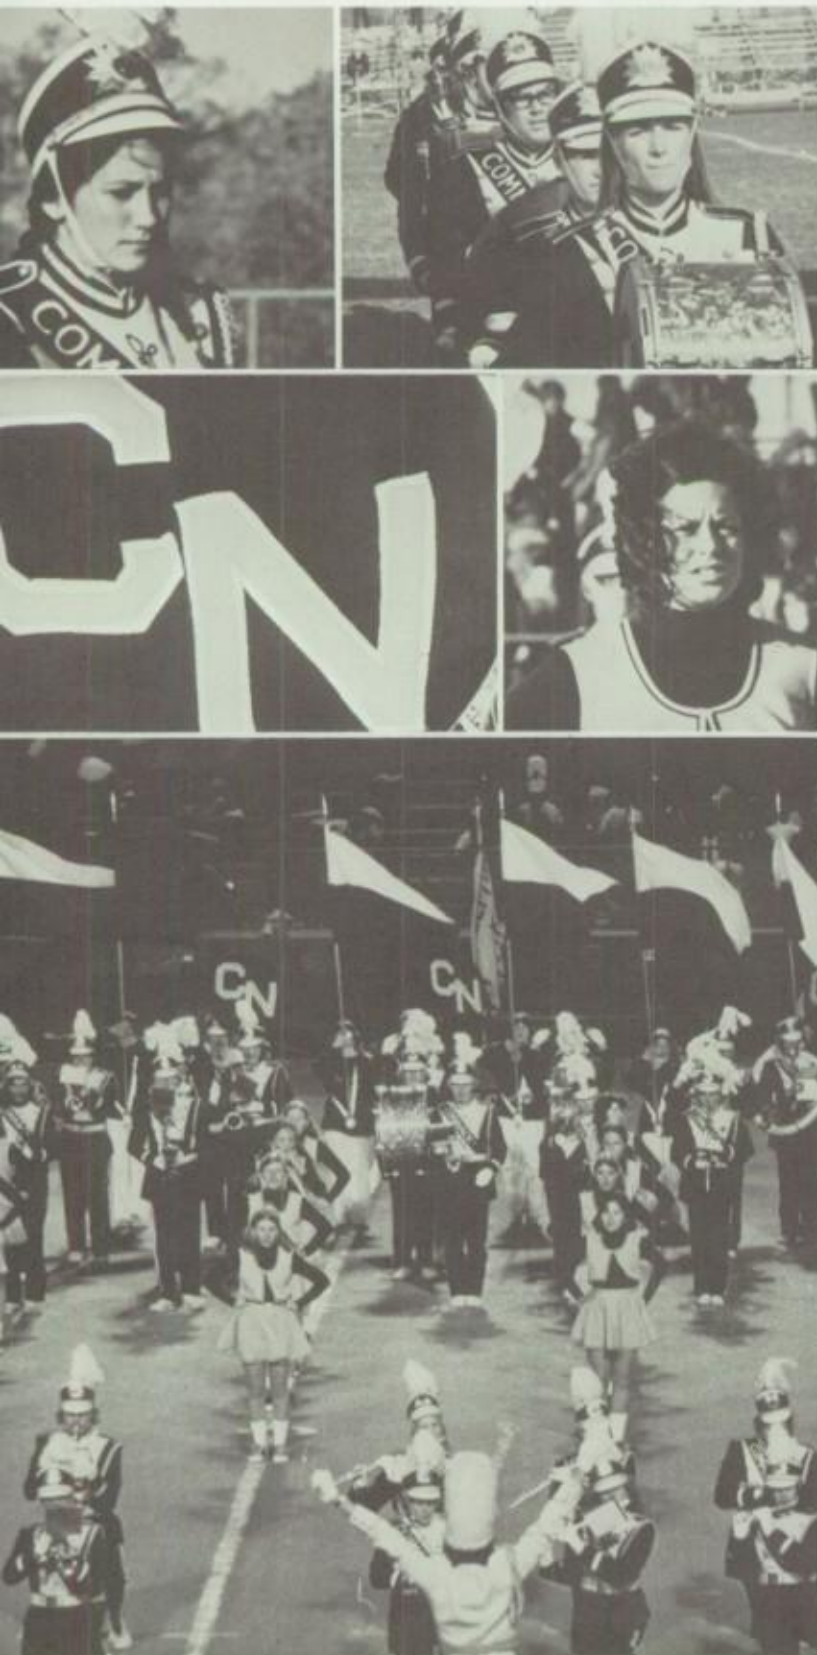

Back on the busses, the spirit is really rising. You'd never believe that it was 11:00 in the evening. We all must have stayed awake on nervous energy alone. What a night this has been . . .

"Sullivan and Goff, you two did such a terrific job."

11:45 There it is. Commack High School North. We did a really good job, and I think that the Marching Rams gave Commack North a terrific year to remember.

"Hey, Seniors, are you going to school tomorrow?"

12:00 The day has ended, and what an exciting day this has been!! The Newsday Marching Band Festival shows how much a group of people like us, can do.

The National Honor Society has done many things in the history of the school to raise money for needy organizations. The Leukemia Foundation was the recipient of the money earned from a Pancake Breakfast held on a certain Saturday this year. A steady stream of customers filed in and out of the school all morning. They loaded their trays with pancakes smothered in syrup and butter, and sat down for a filling and delicious meal. The supplies went fast as hungry society members munched on the chefs' practice pancakes. One of the younger patrons stayed and played bus boy for a day as he cleaned off tables by putting trays of garbage on one hand.

That beautiful, sunny morning ended with many people going home to look for the Alka Seltzer for their stomachs but with a contented feeling in their hearts.

The most memorable night for the National Honor Society would have had to be May 25, the Night of the Spaghetti Dinner. The 50 members will never forget setting up, serving, cooking and cleaning up dinner for what seemed like thousands. I, myself, remember cooking 5 vats of spaghetti in each kitchen, buttering dozens of loaves of bread, and wheeling salad in wheelbarrows. The Italian music and candles added to the romantic mood of the evening. Though it was one of the most profitable events for the Honor Society, most members don't want to be as outnumbered as they were then. We even had to go out and buy spaghetti from Enrico and Paglieri's to feed everyone. We swore we would never attempt one again.

How to Sell a Yearbook

There's no better way to help the school day speed by than to have an assembly that cuts down the length of each period. However, when the assembly is an especially fun one, that day in school becomes something special.

It's hard to believe that last year's hilarious yearbook assembly could be topped, but with the help of Preacher Yokelson, Maestro Bareda, and Crazy Legs Friia, the assembly was a big success. As Jeannie Yokelson preached the merits of purchasing a yearbook, her enthusiastic, black robed congregation helped stress her points with loud chants of "yearbook" and "mighty low" as they danced and shook tambourines. Ordering forms were handed out to the tune of Amen which was changed for the occasion to Aura. Brenda Morris proved that dancing was for the rabbits instead of the birds, and the mood of the audience was sent soaring.

The district dance band, directed by Mr. Barreda, picked up where Jeannie's troupe left off. The audience became caught up with the beat, and at Mr. Phillip's suggestion Mr. Friia offered to dance with any girl in an effort to sell more yearbooks. The song "MacArthur Park" had everyone's feet stamping, and before long Mr. Giaccobe and Mr. Griffin, as well as numerous students, had mounted the stage to dance and unwind in time with the music. Whether the music was slow or fast, or you were participating or watching, a joyous, free feeling filled the atmosphere and settled upon you if you allowed the spirit and emotion of the people around to penetrate your senses.

Our father
 My. Sweetheart
 Come See
 his Summer
 Love Letter

As you pulled into the bumpy, gravel parking lot of the Bavarian Inn near the shore of Lake Ronkonkama on a dark but clear June night, a wave of nausea might have hit you at the thought that the restaurant might use lake water. However, the feeling soon changed to one of excitement and pride as the thought of the awards and honors came to a final realization. You were finally there after a whole year's hard work.

At this sports event the girls wore dresses or gowns or pant suits instead of uniforms. This was a banquet for recognition and not for demonstration. Speeches and entertainment led off the evening. Mr. Phillips joked, the Four Roses sang, and the seniors did Let It Be Heard along with their comedy routines. A special tradition was started by having a father speak to the audience. Mr. Micene's lighthearted and moving speech put everyone in the mood for the presentation of awards.

Dear John,
 Even though you none is the same as a certain somebody I'm trying to forget I think you're really beautiful and very nice.
 Well that out going personality and

The Suffolk County Girls Athletic Association (SCGAA) sets the basic requirements for the awards. Credit for an intramural sport is 30 points while interscholastics is 50 points. The awards are given in the form of charms. You must have 125 pts. for the first award, 250 for the second and 400 for the third. The gold key is the most prestigious of all and is worth 600 points and a trip to a special banquet for all the Suffolk County key winners. Each year North turns out more and more gold key recipients.

The sound of your name being announced and the thrill of walking up for the presentation may cause butterflies but always causes pride. The congratulations and kisses follow you all the way home. Soon it's summer and then school again. You find yourself out on the field or in the gym. The cycle begins anew.

Do you remember:
 Sue Yanusz and John Saal with their faces full of pie;
 All the smashed eggs on the gym floor not to mention the one on the ceiling;
 Falling flat on your face in the 3-legged race;
 Stealing somebody else's scooter to be in the game;

The upset by Mark Morrel over Brian Cerrato in soda guzzling;
 The anxious crowd hoping that their team would win;
 Getting hit in the head by the cageball;
 The cheating on the scoreboard so that the juniors won;
 Disqualification of the seniors in bunch buck for an illegal knee

"This Magic Moment" began even before we entered the room. The sounds of the band floated out to us on the sweet May breeze, urging us to come in . . . the cafeteria had been transformed overnight into a world of sidewalk cafes, blinking lights, girls in long dresses, and boys in suits and tuxes. We danced close together, enjoyed the delicious buffet, had our images immortalized on film, and danced closely some more. The special evening sped by in a whirl of sound, color, and smiles. It was over too soon, but the Junior Prom will be a lasting memory for the class of 1974.

To be able to put on a show, when people realize that with a little song, dance and humor there is a lighter side to the high school years, is a great benefit to us. We got to laugh at ourselves, our friends, and our teachers.

"Chopsticks," an original musical, written and performed totally by students was a great accomplishment for C.H.S.N. Frank Braille composed the music and Chris Faraone wrote the lyrics. This love story between Christina (Valerie Peters) and Michael (Steve Diamant) was performed in acts and was so expertly done that the cast was requested to put on a show at the P.A.F. playhouse. The proceeds were donated to the school.

The Boss played by Keith Keppe and his assistants, the Girls, played by Lydia Oliveri, Jeanne Goff and Ginna Andrews wheeled on a piano in the opening scene to set the stage for this funny but lovely work. Keith and the Girls act as the two lovers' consciences. The fates of Michael and Christina have already been set so that after much decision making by their consciences and a few phone calls to each other the two wind up in the same room, hold hands and almost kiss but the Boss intervenes as the curtain closes on this touching and superbly done musical. The wet-eyed audience promptly gave them a standing ovation for work far beyond the call of duty.

That Sunday morning one could see dark rain clouds billowing in the horizon. But for some strange reason it didn't rain on us once. The whole day was filled with sounds, sights, and sunshine. Forty-two riders started out open-minded and almost ready for anything. Since it was October, there were acorns all over the street. As the bicycles sailed along the paths they popped under the wheels and sounded like popcorn popping in a machine.

An abandoned kitten had been found crying its lungs out on Vanderbilt Parkway which was the most laborious part of the journey. It was up and down hill and people just kept panting as they went up and sighing as they descended. Coming down some hills you would be going so fast and the wind would be lashing your face so hard that tears would come trickling down your cheeks. After all that someone had the rotten luck of getting a pedal broken. He was nearly ruined for life but somehow managed to pull through. Everyone had something to look forward to though, at the next check point. There was always a gallon of water in the back of the station wagon. It seemed God-sent.

When we finally arrived at Belmont lake park everyone sat down somewhere and ate lunch, if they remembered to bring one. Most of the kids seemed fascinated with the lazy ducks, and somehow fed all of their lunches to them.

We stayed there for a long time and rested up for the trek home. The park was beautiful and serene but in some places it was really sad. Around 1:00 we started home. It seemed very strange going down some roads. People came out from their houses and stared, as our brigade passed along their street. It was like you were in a parade.

Going along Carll's Straight path some kids organized a game of tag. They seemed to be having a pretty good time. There were bicycles in both lanes and everyone kept trying to keep up with everyone else.

Eventually we arrived home and found out it was a 24 mile ride and not 20. We weren't surprised.

Sweet Muffins

2¼ cups sifted flour
¼ cup sugar
¾ tsp. salt
4 tsp. baking powder
½ cup shortening, melted
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup milk

Sift together dry ingredients. Make a well in dry ingredients. Combine egg, cooled shortening and milk. Pour liquid mixture into well of flour. Stir 15-25 strokes. Do not overstir. Fill greased, muffin tins two-thirds full. Bake at 400 degrees preheated oven 20-25 minutes. NOTE: Immediately after mixing, the mixture should be transferred to the pans in order to avoid loss of leavening gas. If the muffins cannot be baked immediately they should be placed in the refrigerator; they should stand no longer than 15-30 minutes after being mixed.

Brownies

1 cup margarine
2 cups sugar
2 tsp. vanilla
4 eggs
4 oz. unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 cup flour — sifted
1 cup chopped nuts

Cream margarine, sugar, vanilla. Add eggs, beat well. Blend in chocolate, then stir in flour and nuts. Bake in greased 9" x 13" pan for 35-40 minutes at 350 degrees.

Chocolate Chip Cake

1 box dark chocolate cake mix
1 box instant chocolate pudding
½ cup sour cream
4 eggs

Scant cup water. Combine. Mix well. Pour into wax paper lined 9" x 13" pan. Sprinkle with ½ large package of chocolate chips and ½ cup chopped nuts. Bake at 350 degrees. Serve in small paper cups.

Buttermilk Pancakes

2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
2½ cups buttermilk
2 teaspoons of baking soda
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

Beat sugar and shortening until well mixed. Add eggs and beat until well mixed. Dissolve soda in the buttermilk. Add the mixture to shortening, sugar and eggs. Sift the flour. Add baking powder and sift in to the liquid ingredients. Beat until completely mixed. Pour ¼ cup on a hot, greased griddle and cook until air bubbles appear. Turn over and cook until golden brown.

Oven Fried Chicken

3 cups crushed potato chips
¼ tsp. garlic salt
dash pepper
½ cup melted margarine
2½-3 lb. chicken — cut up

Combine potato chips, garlic and salt in a bowl. Wash and dry chicken. Dip in melted margarine and roll in chip mixture. Place pieces, skin side up and not touching, in a greased jelly roll pan. Sprinkle with remaining butter and crumbs. Bake at 375 degrees for 1 hour or until done — don't burn.

The anger of students and alumni, because Homecoming and the Alumni dance were not held during college vacation, died quickly as everyone got caught up in the spirit of the floats and the queens and the football game, and at night, the dance. SAT jitters vanished as the impressive floats paraded onto the field. Paper flowers flew off the floats as cheering fans looked on with anticipation and nervous constructors kept their fingers crossed. The nippy wind tugged at the skirts of the Homecoming queen candidates as the loud speaker rang with words of recognition for senior cheerleaders, band members, football players, and kick-line ramettes.

Seven handsome escorts found themselves in the midst of tears and kisses as the voting revealed that Janet Gerard was Homecoming Queen for 1974. The stands burst forth with a mighty cheer as it was announced that the seniors had the best float. A feeling of disgust settled upon the crowd as the football Rams lost to the Redmen of East Islip by 4 points, but almost every student went home with an exciting exhilaration. There was the dance to look forward to.

A Wonderland of fantasy was presented in December to five delighted audiences. A play like this had never before been attempted at CHSN, but the final outcome dispelled any shadows of doubt that may have been hanging over it.

Color was a highlight of this play-set-to-music (composed and performed by Joanne Martin). The beautiful, if somewhat strange costumes, combined with the "Fantastical" scenery built by the energetic stage crew (under the supervision of Mr. Hall), produced an enchanting effect.

Of course, the actors and actresses made magic of their own! Sophomores Laurie White and Sue Rudley shared the role of Alice, both using the naiveté of their youth to great advantage. A unicycling mouse, a singing turtle and gryphon, a "hammy" king, and three madly amusing party goers all added their own touch of merriment to the proceedings.

Once again, Mr. Griffin displayed his outstanding abilities as a director. "Alice in Wonderland" was the stuff of which dreams are made, and will be remembered as one of the best shows produced at North for many years to come.

The Social Studies assemblies, held in the little theatre and organized by Mr. Miller were designed for enjoyment, learning and intercultural enrichment. The topics:

The Role of Women in American Society — Should the Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution be ratified and what do you think of women's lib?

Pre-Election Day Town Hall Meeting — A meeting narrated by Mrs. Pat LaGare from the League of Women Voters with speeches by the candidates in the coming election in the hope of informing and motivating political interest.

Implication of the New Drug Law

"The twang of the Hunter's Bow — still casts its spell," Musical Strings Through the Ages

"Town Meeting" on Housing — A panel presentation on housing and a video tape of the Regional Paln Association film about housing were seen.

Should the U.S. Government Grant Amnesty to Draft Evaders and Deserters?

Ethnically Related Genetic Diseases — Films and discussions about Cooley's Anemia, Sickle Cell Anemia and Tay-sachs Disease to make students more aware of their dangers.

Baroque period — our own John Porcino on the cello

Romantic period — featuring Marion Bannerman playing the harp

American Folk and Modern — George Bauer, Louis Claps and George Stein from the Long Island Banjo Society

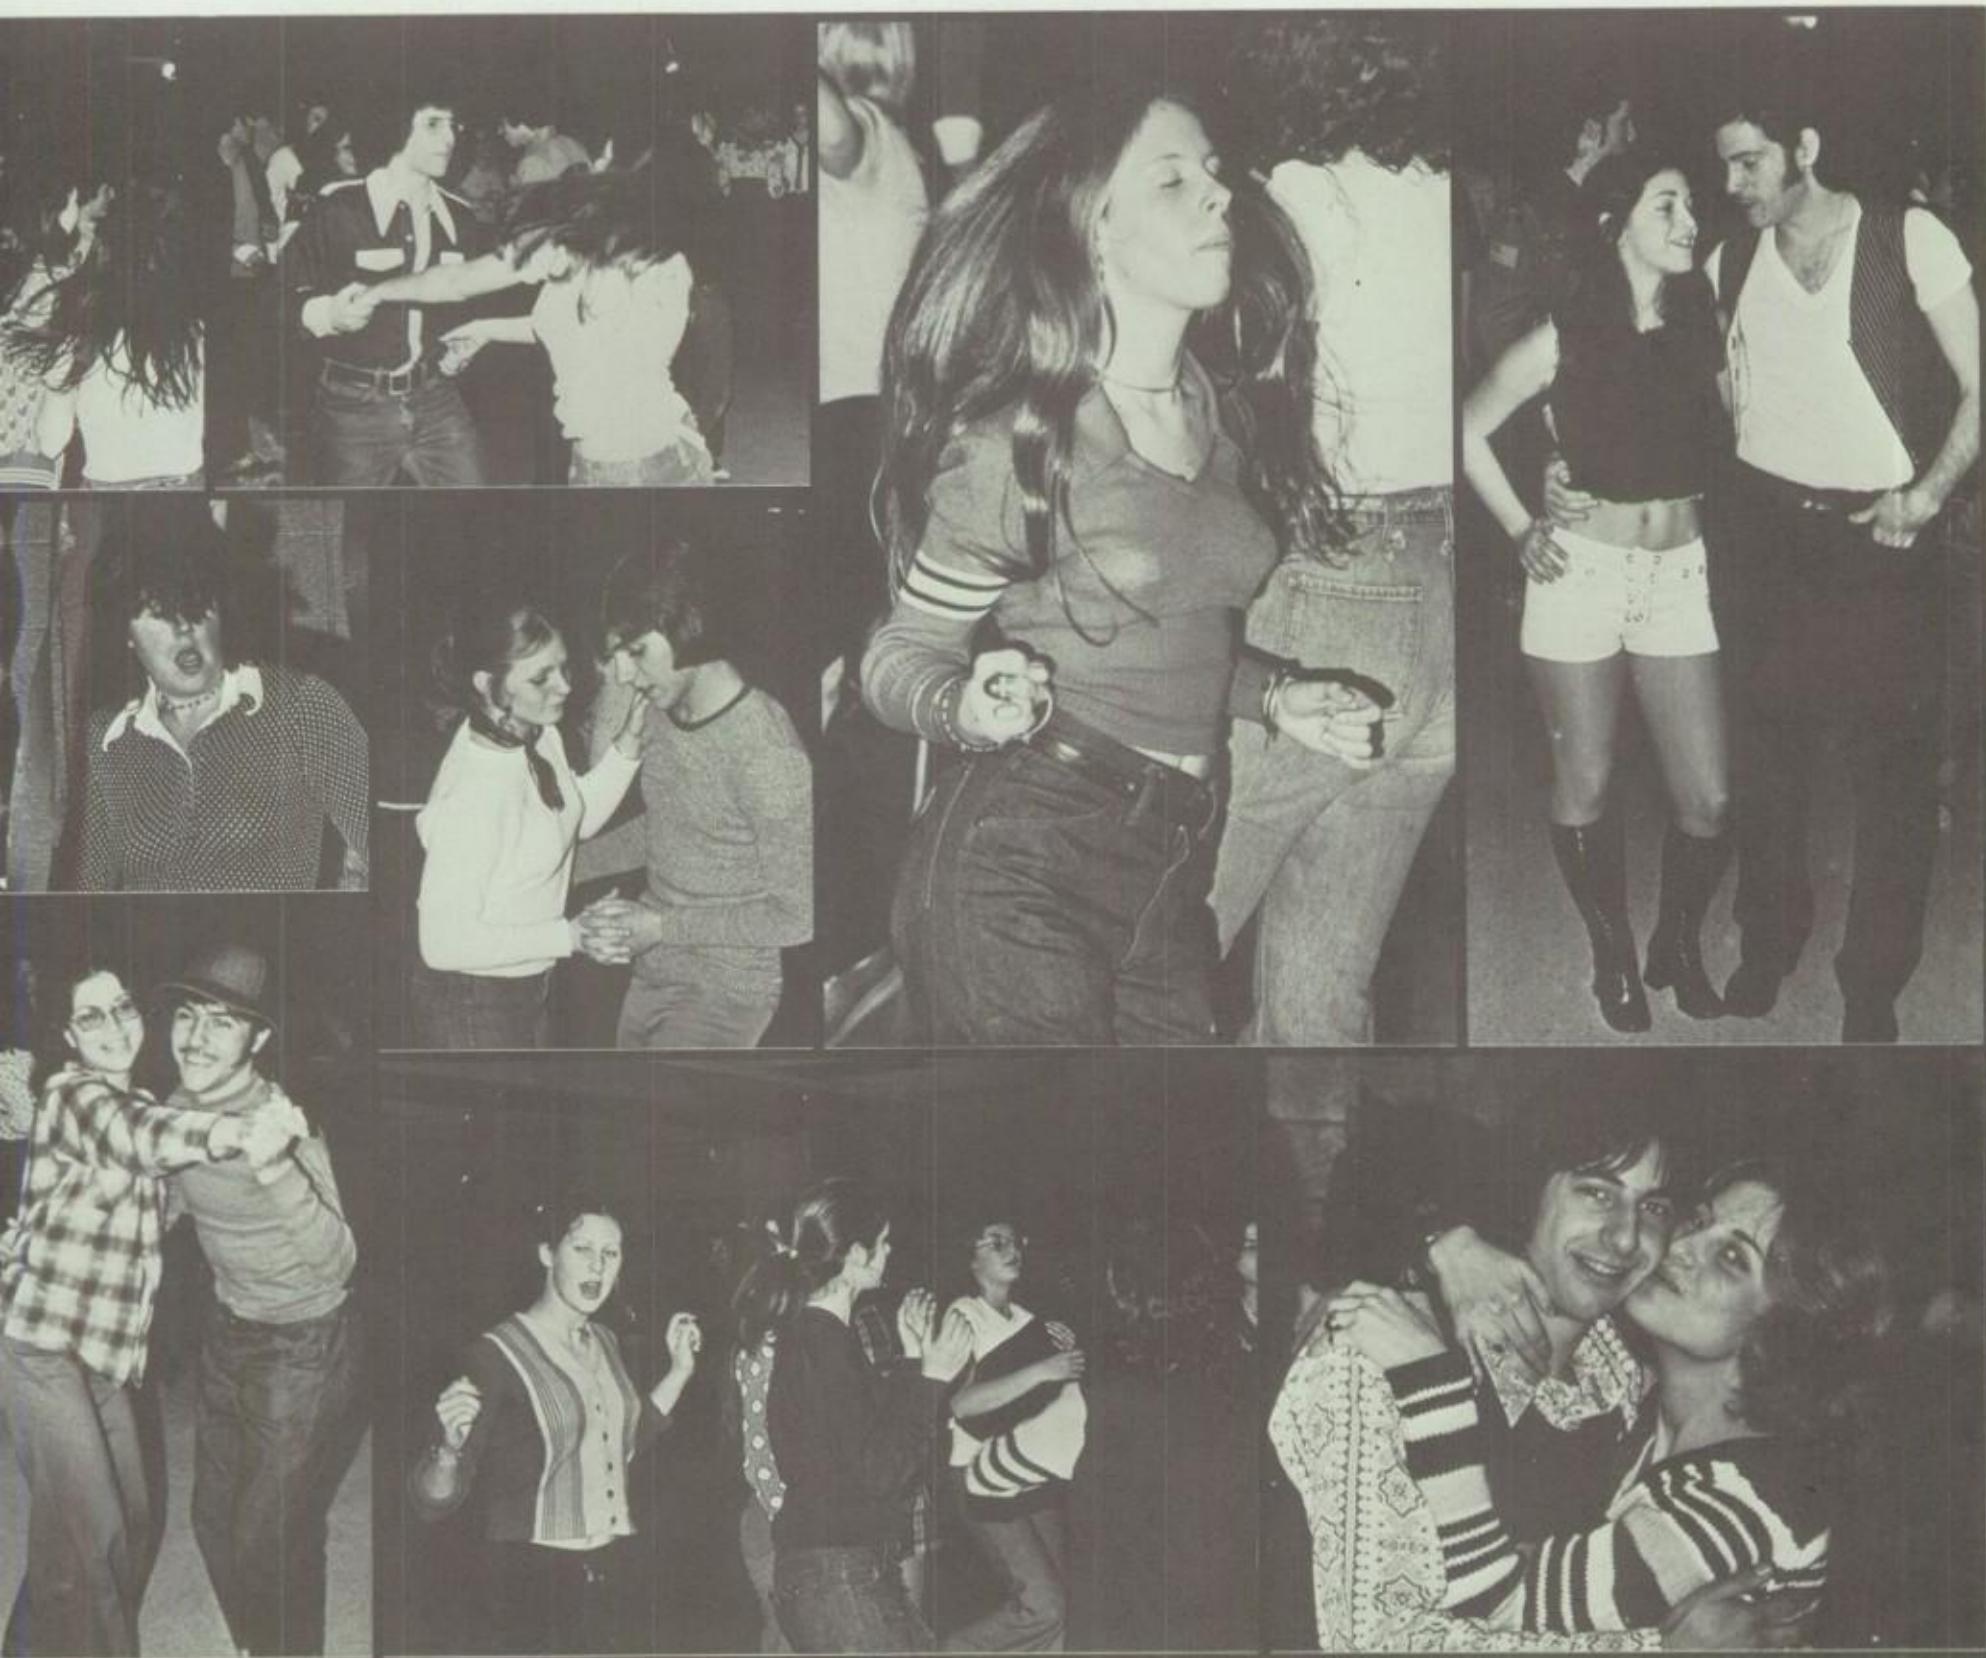

Contemporary American — featuring Axiotis Kehayzas on the Bouzouki

Film: "King: From Montgomery to Memphis"

What is the Civil Rights Movement Doing Today? — A panel discussion and question and answer period were featured.

During these past ten productions, over 1,500 students have participated in affiliated or related show positions. Between stagecrew, backstage committees, pit orchestra, cast, dancers, and ushers to mention a few, they have all made their unique contribution. It has been a unique experience for all of us. In the truest sense of the word here at Commack North; "The show will go on;" especially with the wonderful and dedicated students who participate.

If you have to remember me, remember all my work on the shows! They were the greatest things I did in school! It is really too bad that we were only in one together!

“The virtues of a superior man are like the wind; the virtues of a common man are like the grass; the grass, when the wind passes over it, bends’ . . . The universe is wider than our views of it . . . If one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours . . . If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put the foundations under them.”

star

“We must learn to reawaken and keep ourselves awake, not by mechanical aids, but by an infinite expectation of the dawn, which does not forsake us in our soundest sleep. I know of no more encouraging fact than the unquestionable ability of man to elevate his life by a conscious endeavor . . . Every man is tasked to make his life, even in its details, worthy of the contemplation of his most elevated and critical hour . . . Time is but the stream I go a- fishing in. I drink at it; but while I drink I see the sandy bottom and detect how shallow it is. Its thin current slides away, but eternity remains. I would drink deeper; fish in the sky, whose bottom is pebbly with stars. I cannot count one. I know not the first letter of the alphabet, I have always been regretting that I was not as wise as the day I was born. The intellect is a cleaver; it discerns and rifts its way into the secret of things. I do not wish to be any more busy with my hands than is necessary. My head is hands and feet. I feel all my best faculties concentrated in it. My instinct tells me that my head is an organ for burrowing, as some creatures use their snout and fore-paws, and with it I would mine and burrow my way through these hills. I think that the richest vein is somewhere hereabouts; so by the divining rod and thin rising vapors I judge; and here I will begin to mine.”

John,
it's so nice of you to write about
I'll try to do the same for you HA HA
We really had a good time upstate and I really miss your smiling face and warped personality.

I'll give you my new address and you can write to me since you seem to like writing
so much. Well
Have a great time in Holland, one for a double good time,

me and one for you.

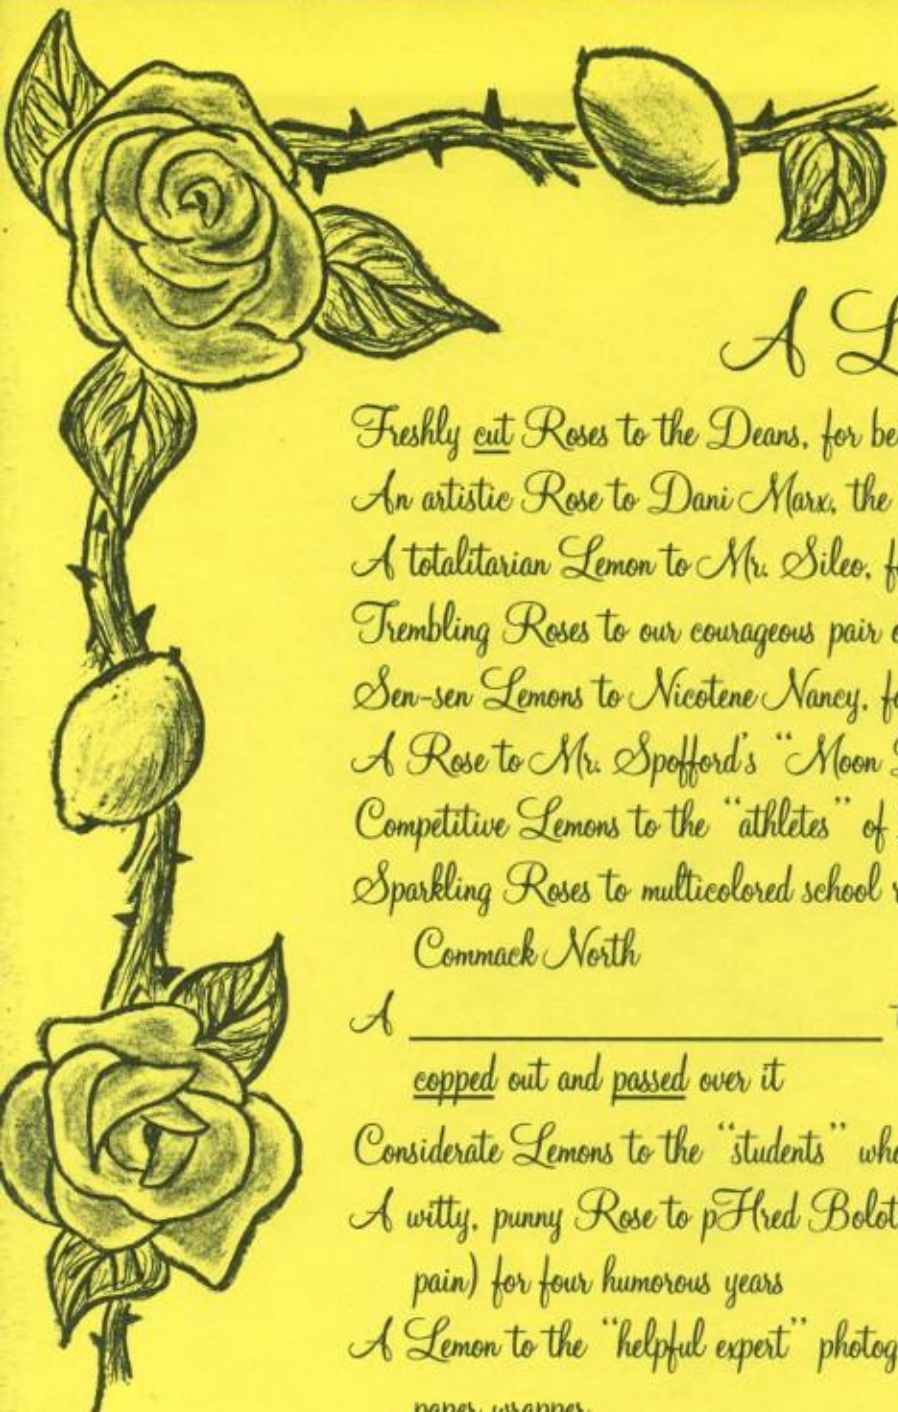

Do you remember
SS. with Miss Albert?
I never should have let you sit in back of me

well - II - II
Take care #1 Tenor,

Love
Dulcie

John,
I love you,
I love you,
I love you,
what more can I say!

A Lemon and A Rose

Freshly cut Roses to the Deans, for being in a class by themselves

An artistic Rose to Dani Marx, the Class of '74's answer to Michael Angelo

A totalitarian Lemon to Mr. Sileo, for not letting the students walk in the halls

Trembling Roses to our courageous pair of Driver Ed teachers, for merely surviving

Sen-sen Lemons to Nicotene Nancy, for trying to make an ash of herself

A Rose to Mr. Spofford's "Moon Doggies," for keeping those boards so immaculate Competitive Lemons to the "athletes" of Donkey Basketball, for their "sportsmanship"

Sparkling Roses to multicolored school rings, for increasing the already enormous unity that exists in Commack North

A _____ to Mr. Boerner (We were gonna give him a Rose, but we copped out and passed over it)

Considerate Lemons to the "students" who ripped up the pool table in the Commons

A witty, punny Rose to pFred Bolotin, for keeping Commack North laughing (And wincing with pain) for four humorous years

A Lemon to the "helpful expert" photography student, for throwing away the film and trying to develop the paper wrapper

Malthusian Roses to Mr. Lennox, for his liberal outlook on life

Bucketsful of lemons to the structural engineers of the new wing, for making it exactly like the old one (Leaks and all)

A very special Rose to all those who take by giving

An autographed pair of Christine Jorgenson Roses to coed gym

Lemons to the Guidance Counselors, for going into hibernation two weeks before school starts

A succulent, thornless pair of Roses to Mrs. Herlich and Mr. Youngs, for staying healthy

Literary Roses to the gracious little elves in the library, for so carefully guarding the path of departure so none may escape without infinite knowledge contained in books therein

A delicate Rose to Mr. Barry, for a cute Boston accent

Phantom Lemons to the Wilson Tech students, for not signing in and going unnoticed

Roses to responsible students, for parking in the teacher's parking lot

An unforgettable Lemon to passes — Library passes, late passes, early passes, bathroom passes, passes to get passes . . .

1974 Roses to each and every Senior, for enduring twelve years of slavery
